Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

I support increased policing of speed limits around schools and of vehicles passing stationary school buses. I also support extension of wide cycle paths. The speed reductions proposed will lead to driver frustration, tailgating and increased running of red lights. Almost all vehicles are now fitted with ABS and many newer models including second hand imports are appearing with collision avoidance technology. Lowering of speed limits ignores the technology which is emerging enhancing safety for pedestrians and motorists. It is evident that driver frustration and impatience behind inconsiderately slow vehicles on the open road causes many crashes. Why would similar frustrations in an urban environment lead to a different response by a sector of motorists? There will be a much higher volume of motorists under pressure to arrive at work or appointments on time. The simple response that drivers should depart earlier is valid on its face but ignores human nature and pressures experienced which will not be diminished by longer travel times. Have the speed limit reductions been tested against other public health interventions which may result in less net cost to the community for harm reduction i.e. an economist's modeling of reduced productivity (as a result of the accumulated non productive travel time) versus direct costs of other public health initiatives. If this modeling has not been carried out then the speed limit reductions are an ad hoc exercise carried out inside a silo. If an economist model proves speed limit reductions are the most cost effective bang for buck for harm reduction then I would be supportive of the speed reductions.

Q20. He aha ai? Why?

I strongly doubt that reduced limits will decrease the number of instances of dangerous driving that I observe. I suspect it is likely these will increase. Ultimately for any law to be effective requires public acceptance of the intent and validity of the law. I doubt there would be more than limited buy-in for the proposed limits.

Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Nothing wrong with status quo. Speed humps work. Change suggestions are to widespread, could be focused to specific areas of need (e.g. Ngongotahā village), not a blanket ruling for entire CBD. Rules already apply for school areas - enforce them. Enforce current rules. If you can't do that already, why put in more rules

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

There is no valid reasoning behind it. All it will accomplish is frustrating drivers and encourage dangerous overtaking from those not wanting to drive that slow. It won't be enforced (Te Ngae Road 50km zone, case in point) and will increase dangerous tailgating.

Stop frustrating residents. Think outside the square to find solutions for current issues. Reducing speed limits will frustrate people and encourage dangerous driving behaviour.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Because there are very few people who walk to and from school and are on the road at the time kids are walking. We never have incidents in Mamaku with people speeding or hitting kids walking to school. The impact on road users far outweighs the amount of time kids are even on the road walking to and from school therefore it's a bit of a non-issue in Mamaku where the cost of implementation would be a total waste given its proportional benefit. The issues we have in Mamaku with antisocial road users is during the night and does not impact children walking to school and changing the speed limit will not address the social issues our community has in fact it is most likely to make it worse as reducing the speed limit means further regulating rural road users which over-regulation in one area while lacking regulation in more serious areas of society will only cause problems. Our community would be better served by healthy harm reduction regulation around alcohol, when, where and how much can be purchased, like not to be sold at any supermarket or grocery store where everyone goes to buy basic necessities like bread, milk and toilet paper, only so many to an area, limit on opening hours and amount of standard drinks that can be purchased at any one time. Bing drinking culture has been hugely created by poor regulation policy from the beginnings of regulation and needs to be addressed with an evidence-based approach. This will better impact the safety of our children both on and off the roads where changing the speed limit for the entire community will have no positive impacts.

Q10. He aha ai? Why?

The road to Mamaku (Dansey Road and Maraeroa) both can be safely traveled at 100kmph. It will only make our community more isolated by increasing travel times. We already have issues with many youth and locals traveling at excess speed, reducing the speed limit will only serve to further condemn, ostracize and financially burden our already struggling community it will not make anyone safer or help foster community connection it will only divide people more. We have had many issues with suicide and mental health in our community especially lately and it is scientifically proven that fundamental to mental health is both deep profound connection and autonomy over our own lives over regulating speed limits will only further remove these things from the lives of our community. People are capable of knowing when the weather and road conditions require them to travel at below 100kmph and reducing the speed limit on a road that does not have an issue with harm from traffic accidents even after a year of excess wet weather suggests implicately alludes that we don't think people can make that rational themselves it also feeds into unnecessary decision which our community has suffered far too much of over recent years. It is a total waste of resources that will not have valuable positive impact on our community health or our community safety. We have many needs in many other areas that would be better suited of the limited resources available like for example basics like footpaths and drains.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu? Is there anything further you would like to comment on?	Please address alcohol regulation with a evidence based harm reduction approach in our communities urgently. Alcohol is hard drugs and hard drugs should not be for sale next to the toilet paper, bread, milk or basic like necessities. Harm reduction 101. These measures would far better serve our communities health and safety on many levels that impact our children on and off the roads.

Agree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

The CBD should be a place for people more than cars. There is no need for high speed limits inside the CBD. The CBD currently feels dangerous on larger streets (e.g. Fenton).

Agree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

80km is more than reasonable for rural roads. Simplifying the limits will make it easy to know what the limits are.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Rather than a blanket 30km limit everywhere, I would prefer variable limits with signage advising the current limit. Close in to schools should be 30km/hr max, perhaps even 20km/hr very close in to the school and in areas particularly used by children.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?/Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

I would like to see more focus on walkways/cycleways as a way to get people to use alternate modes of transport, rather than using slower speed limits as the tool. Improved walkways and cycleways, with dedicated separated lanes, would make people a lot more comfortable riding. The cities that have done this clearly show an increase in ridership/walking when the population feels safer.

I live in Mamaku and travel Dansey road daily. Lowering the limit will not change anything but hinder the people who travel safely at the current limit of 100. Neutral (No opinion)

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Its safer for pedestrians and cars pulling in and out or parking spaces. Also most people don't use the CBD anyway so it wont affect most people.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Lowering the speed limit around schools within a logical distance is good. 500m is actually quite a distance, I think 300m is more practical. I DO NOT think thsa lowering the speed limit to 30kms on CONNECTOR roads is a good idea. This would only cause congestion and frustration which could lead to more accidents.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?
There is so much activity going on in the CBD...pedestrians, cars parking or reversing, trucks delivering etc that 30kms is probably not much different to what responsible drivers are doing now. so 30kms makes sense

Q10. He aha ai?Why?
Trucks use rural roads to take them off the highways. If the speed limit was reduced on the rural roads it would simply make the trucks go back onto the State Highways. What ever happened to "open road" speed limits? As in driving to the conditions?

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

There are practical places to reduce speed i.e around the schools and in the CBD. But blanket 30km throughout Rotorua is ridiculous. The repercussions that would happen out of frustration far outweigh any positives

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

I am a Mamaku resident. I live near the school so assume we will have 30kms by my house. All good. But again, to blanket the ENTIRE village to 30kms is crazy!! For a start we don't even have speed signs up here...other than 3 I think!! Speed is an issue up here for sure, but speed humps will be far more effective than putting signs up for people to ignore. And I seriously do not think there are enough police officers to 'police' it...it would be taking them away from the real crime that almost continuously happening. However, to finish on a positive note, when I drive around the village, 40kms is doable!! And it makes sense as we at times have a number of people/kids out and about during the day

Q2. He aha ai?Why?

Yss and no, At least some of these roads should be reduced, because of the children walking around school zones, however some of them I don't as it will just make more people become aggressive and impatient drivers. New Zealand drivers license tests are far to easy to pass, and they need to be harder, more speed cameras and other means of reducing "stupid" drivers, is more beneficial in my opinion.

Q10. He aha ai?Why?
The only time they are unsafe is if people are holding a speed like that going around corners or something stupid, it is a speed "limit" for a reason, it's the max speed not the minimum. Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Streets with parking such as Hinemoa, Tutanakai, Haupapa, Pukaki can only be driven on at 30kph or less now due to the narrow and tight road conditions already in place. Dropping the limit is not necessary. People that don't drive to the conditions now will not obey a 30kph sign. The rest of the area needs to stay at 50. I don't see any accidents to warrant a speed change. You can't impact tens of thousands of drivers to try and prevent a handful of Mr meaner incidents. There have been almost nil serious accidents to justify any of this .

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Not enough data on accidents to back up the reason for change. Once again thousands of road users impacted for no reason. There have not been the accidents to warrant any change.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Schools are high risk and we need to ensure the kids are as safe as they can be

Q7. Pātai tuarua (Question 2)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?Having a 30km/h speed limit in the CBDClick Here to enlarge map

Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Blanket speed limits restrict free movement of all people. Consider each street on its merits for reducing the speed such as proximity to schools,malls,hospitals etc.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map Strongly Disagree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Rural traffic often slows to 20 - 50 km/h due to tractors, stock and milk truck. Leave the speed limit higher to allow for satisfactory travel times during quiet periods

Q11. Lowering speed limits will help reduce the number of speed-related crashes Strongly Disagree

Q12. Lowering speed limits will reduce traffic noise Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

When driving in the CBD I rarely drive 50km/h now as there is traffic and lights etc. so I see no need to waste money and resources on something that will make absolutely no difference

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

The speed limit is already there and you choose to drive that or not depending on conditions or logic at that time. Why can't people be making choices for themselves. We are becoming a non thinking bubble wrapped dictatorship. More benefit would be to get people to drive on their side of the road not mine. Keep to your left signs won't work either

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Because schools are busier places at more constant times and it's good to have a lower limit around them. But lowering it everywhere seems like a silly idea that doesn't make sense. It will only cause frustration, anger and dangerous driving amongst the few who already drive unsafe, and you're just punishing all to slow a few, who won't even probably follow the rules because they don't already.

Q7. Pātai tuarua (Question 2)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?Having a 30km/h speed limit in the CBDClick Here to enlarge map

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

In the immediate CBD between lake road and Fenton and lake front to the mall yes, elsewhere no. It's just cutting down speed for no reason. The majority of people are good drivers who drive to the conditions and limits. The ones who don't aren't going to change.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). Q20. He aha ai? Why?

Its not going to stop those who are the problem. They will keep speeding and the majority who don't will get frustrated at the speed reduction. I support the innermost CBD and schools being reduced.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu? Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

It would be nice if other road safety was considered first. Like the fact there is no safe crossing for school children or families for 2.5km on Old Taupo Road from Malfroy lights to the Hemo round about. Or that despite the big islands of land down Fenton, there are no safe dips in the sides to push bikes or pushchairs up on any of them, you have to life up a quite high curb and the only possible places are at the busiest points of the roundabout. Maybe a focus of this would be a good start as well. Making it accessible for our children to bike and walk to every school safely.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

A 500m speed limit reduction outside schools is a realistic compromise - although it should be like Australia which is only at certain times.

Q7. Pātai tuarua (Question 2)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?Having a 30km/h speed limit in the CBDClick Here to enlarge map

Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Speed in the cbd is self limiting - its virtually impossible to drive at 50 on those streets anyway.

Q9. Q10. He aha ai?Why?

It's just too slow, people in rural communities often have to bring their children into town multiple times a week, they need to be able to do that in reasonable time frames.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

I'm a father of 2 girls and modern life is very busy, a typical week will involve driving one daughter across town to 2 netball practices and 2 games, the other daughter 3+ times to tennis. Many times it is already a struggle to get them there on time. And that's just sports, there's also us getting to work, shopping and all other things involved with life. A lowering of the current speed limits is a backwards move for Rotorua, it will definatly increase frustration and road rage incidents. I know you have an idealistic view that doing this will decrease the use of private vehicles, I can tell you it will not, I'm a cyclist and worked in the cycling industry for 23 years in Rotorua so I'm all for cycling but I can tell you its just not practical to cycle/walk/take public transport if you need to get get somewhere on time, carry sports/work gear, not get there covered with sweat or do it in -2 degrees. Some mornings when I cycle into town I pass the same one person cycling in the opposite direction that I've passed 20 years ago, there's no more people cycling. It will end up being an expensive idealistic failure like the green cycle lane in town and also the big wide paths in Lynmore (which I walk on virtually everyday for 30-45mins) Both cost big money and were built with a 'build it and they will come' mentality. Well I can tell you now they both did nothing to increase walking or cycling.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Please take note that driving at 30km/h increases vehicle fuel consumption by 20-30% rather than driving at a much more fuel efficient 50-80km/h so a vote for lowering the speed limit to 30km/h is a vote for increasing emissions. That is well documented data. Your team advising on this proposal seems to have falsely claimed that vehicle emissions are lower at 30km/h.

Q6. Why?

Generally it makes sense around schools as there are large numbers of young people in a concentrated area using the road. However, it is also only immediately before and after school where the requirement exists. It also depends on the school and the road configuration around the school.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

At schools it should be reduced so drivers have a better chance of reacting if required. But NOT any where else. That's just stupid as everyone will get frustrated and angry and there will be more accidents. Most people are careful drivers changing the speed limits won't change the behaviour of the few that drive recklessly anyway! Look at how well the gun laws worked!!

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

This will not encourage riding a bike or taking a bus! Some places don't have a bus service and are too far out of town to bike so going slower will increase pollution because we're driving for longer.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

This is totally stupid and typical woolly thinking from a nanny state.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Because there is no evidence that this action will affect the road toll... where are the supporting statistics? Come on planners, let's get real... 30km is a crawl and you will end up with frustrated and angry drivers.

Because slow vehicles create more frustration and lack of concentration resulting in a higher risk of accidents. I don't think it's right to lower a speed limit that has worked fine for so long just because of a couple of idiots. Lowering the speed will not change a thing as those who speed will continue to speed regardless.

Council spent a lot of wasted rate payers money on the cycle lanes that were going to be so awesome and well used, failed to listen to the public and here you are years later spending more rate payers money to remove them when we didn't want them in the first place. Lowering speed limits will not encourage the use of bikes or the bus. Stop doing what suits someone else's agenda and listen to the public. Leave the speed limits alone rather than face the embarrassment yet again when another one of councils money wasting exercises fail.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Most children will have crossed the road inside 500m

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Overkill. Over-the-top reaction. In the central cbd, bounded by Ranolf, Fenton, Arawa and Amohau Sts, it's difficult to drive over the current 50kmph, but if cbd speed limits are to be formally reduced, it should be within these boundaries only. By reducing the limit to 30kmph for so many surrounding streets it's not going to improve wellbeing or make the city more liveable or give it a much longer for vibe, it's only going to make people more frustrated and less likely to go to town. Why risk a trip to town at not much more than a creep for fear of a ticket?

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Again, many of the roads included are quiet rural roads, but yes, I agree that speed limits should be lower around schools, however only at student arrival / departure times. Why adversely impact on the lives of those going about their lawful business if you don't have to?

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

It is too drastic and is only going to frustrate residents. Those who speed now will continue to do so, and those of us who are normally law-abiding could likely get ticketed for driving at crawling pace. I often ride my bike at in excess of 30kmph. Would I get a speeding ticket?! I fully endorse lowering speed limits outside school entrances, but only at arrival / departure times. The rest of the time, most of the roads included in the proposal are quiet suburban streets with minimal traffic and even fewer people. The government plan should not be a one-size-fits-all directive. I'd like to think that Council could engage some common sense, consider the 100s of submissions and facebook comments opposing its plan, these from regular, sensible law-abiding people, and reconsider the over-regulation it proposes. Just because Council has the power, it doesn't mean it has to wield it. Alternatively, shelve the proposal until after the upcoming election where, should we have a new government, the approach to the traffic speed issue will be revisited. Why introduce a proposal that will be near impossible to enforce given our over-stretched police force? Why adopt a policy that will further alienate residents for the sake of a pipe dream?

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

I suggest Council deals with the causes of the 80% of incidents in which speed isn't a contributing factor. We have lived at our current address (Larcy Rd, near Lynmore School) for well over 20yrs. In that time there have been no road accidents that I am aware of (though when talking with a Council staff member when the shared cycle / pedestrian path was being constructed there "almost was, once"). The street is busy around school arrival / departure times, as are many small suburban streets. From plenty of experience, I know it's close to impossible to drive anywhere near 50kmph at these times. The rest of the time it is a very quiet street so why enforce a creep speed of 30kmph? Similarly, for the many other suburban streets. As an additional note, in the just over 2yrs of the shared pathway there have been 2 accidents on it outside our home that I'm personally aware of, both between a child cyclist and child pedestrian. One included blood and tears, the other, a broken wrist, blood and tears.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

The CBD should be limited to the town centre, this proposal includes a lot of sprawl. Has analysis been completed to cover off incidence of congestion, road rage, traffic light hopping and so on.

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Road conditions do not allow safe driving at 100km. The amount of pot holes and gravel deems the roadways a danger and unsafe. If the roads were as good as the roads down South, this would not be an issue. But the roads are atrocious.

Make our roads safer by fixing them and better maintenance and offer education. Bear in mind, Electric cars cause greater potholes due to the extra weight from their batteries, case study done in the UK supporting this. Why do Electric cars not pay RUCs like diesel engines?

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Support this only directly outside schools. Productivity will decrease in Rotorua as a result of decreased speed limits throughout Rotorua, and more congestion along state highways and main corridors where more vehicles will drive along because people won't want to travel at 30kmhr all the way to work. Also a slower speed might mean that drivers become more distracted using their phones or fiddling with their stereos, as they will get more bored while driving and want to fill in their time while driving. This could lead to more 'distracted driving' crashes.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Reducing speed limits in areas other than schools will only create more congestion, possibly more crashes and as a result more road rage. The build up of traffic can already be seen now when people choose to go 20k under the speed limit, this will make it substantially worse. If people were going to walk and bike they would be doing it already. The logic of making the driving experience as bad as possible to encourage people to exercise is unsound at best.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

It will create congestions and make it almost impossible to cross roads etc. The lack of cross walks is already a problem for older and less mobile people. Queues of traffic everywhere is not going to make this better. Children will also be more at risk because they won't be able to negotiate traffic going from stationary to moving all the time.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map Strongly Disagree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Already see so many potential accidents when cars choose the 60/80km route on 100k roads. You will just be making these accidents a certainty. When you see the string of 20 cars piled up behind one you would understand. It completely takes away flow of traffic which is a safety measure in itself. The problem isn't the people following the speed limits, it is those going over them.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Lowering the speed limits in my opinion will create more problems than it potentially fixes. Since living in Rotorua I have very very rarely been at a set of lights when at least one person isn't going through on red. Maybe this would be a good place to start.

Q2. He aha ai?Why?

I think it will help to make roads safer for drivers, pedestrians and other users like cyclists. Cars are getting quieter and harder to hear coming especially for young people who like to talk and observe their surroundings. Rotorua is lucky to have little traffic congestion and it doesn't take long to get anywhere. Leave early, slow down, enjoy the journey and get there safely.

Strongly Agree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

50kmph through a street made with pedestrian crossings is stupid (eg Starbucks street)

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

That's stupid sure rural roads can be more dangerous than highways, but for people who are local to those roads they know how to behave in certain conditions where as they get help up by others that are not comfortable for the road, which this reduced speed limit would only benefit those who are not comfortable, but with most rural roads around Rotorua district there are more than one way to get to the rural area which can be more comfortable for them and they have passing lanes on those roads for those people.

Neutral (No opinion)

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

My car gets scratched and damaged when I park it in town, having a slower speed limit will not stop that. The parking and Rotorua isn't great.

Q9. Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Our roads can't support any speed, if the number of pot holes are any indication. Rural roads are particularly bad, the reading needs to be improved.

Q19. He aha ai?Why?

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Both cycle ways and foot paths shouldn't be anywhere near vehicles. Reducing the speed limit won't change that or stop those accidents . We already have a number in society who don't abide by the current laws so reducing the speed will only make them worse. We need better designed roads, better designed shared walk/cycle ways, and better education to reduce accidents.

Q6. Why?

Reducing speed around schools makes sense especially to protect our kids. All other areas should remain at 50kph to enable ease of movement around town.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

As a teacher who is often out on Road patrol, speed limits need to be reduced as our tamariki are not at aware around roads as they used to be.

Q7. Pātai tuarua (Question 2)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?Having a 30km/h speed limit in the CBDClick Here to enlarge map

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

The only parts that should be reduced to 30km are in the centre by Starbucks as this looks more like pedestrian access than for vehicles.

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

If money was put into maintaining our rural roads, highways and expressways we would not need to reduce the speed limits on these roads. A supposed way to solve an easy problem. On going unfortunately.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

The only areas that need a review are around rural and urban schools. 30km in these areas would benefit everybody as these are often incredibly busy areas before and after school with drop offs and pick ups. Drivers needs to be educated better and there needs to be stricter enforcements for those who do not adhere to the speed limit. Changing speed limits is not solving any issues just making us more of a nanny state than we already are.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

The SMP will not make our region and city safer and move livable. Instead it will make it more onerous to travel and travel will take longer. It will lead to increased frustration, road rage and dangerous overtaking. I would not consider overtaking someone keeping to the 50kph speed limit on an urban road. I will definitely consider overtaking someone keeping to the 30kph speed limit on an urban road. Regrettable, risky but true. What evidence is there that a blanket 30kph limit in a city saves lives? How many lives have been lost to car accidents in Rotorua on non-arterial urban roads, those roads that have a proposed 30kph limit? I suggest if there have been the vehicle was exceeding the 50kph limit. The NZTA approach is not based on evidence or common sense. We should not follow that approach.

Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Reducing the speed limit to 30 km/h in such a vast area is completely ridiculous. All it is going to do is create frustration amongst road users as well as slowing everything down. A 40% reduction is no joke and will have serious impact. Not to mention the increased emissions as ICE vehicles are more efficient at higher speeds (up to a certain speed depending on gearing).

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Cutting speed limits should not be the solution to poorly maintained roads. It's a complete cop out from government and local council. Cars have gotten safer and smarter and are totally safe on the vast majority of roads at current speed limits if the roads are correctly signposted and maintained.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

It doesn't make sense to lower speeds in a 300m radius around schools if some of the streets that fall within that radius have no access to the school. For example lowering the speed on Hyland Crescent to 30kph because it is within 300m of St Michael's makes no sense as there are no children from St Michael's walking around on Hyland Crescent. Also, lowering the speed limits in the industrial areas is silly as the roads are wide and it is adults working around there who know to look out for cars when crossing or working around the road. Lowering speed limits in these areas will do nothing to actually slow down drivers, as the proposed changes are preposterous, instead it will just be another opportunity for the police to fine hardworking citizens.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Lowering speeds from 50km/h to 30km/h will actually result in a net increase of emissions due to the engines output shaft and wheels rotating at a closer speed. ICE vehicles that do not use CVT transmissions are more efficient in higher gears as the engine speed can remain constant while wheel speed increases. Obviously, once the vehicle is in its top gear the more speed it has the more emissions it will release but no matter the car, it will always be more efficient travelling at 50km/h than 30km/h. *There are exceptions but they are not common enough to consider

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

I think that 30km/ h around schools as a limited speed zone is good I.e school hours. However I think 30km/h in urban areas is too slow. Maybe in narrow streets but for example in Lynmore the streets are wide and if you try and drive 30 it is very slow. 40 might be ok (and probably good for Lake Okareka which is narrow and windy). However enforcement would be good. Problem now is hoons at all times of day and night. If you make speed 30 there will be more angry drivers (already have angry drivers behind me when I go up Tarawera Rd at 50).

Again 30 is very slow and this is a big area. I think the inner city area between Amohia and Fenton St, would be good at 30km/h but not the rest in f the are proposed.

Some areas should be reduced, and a lot really shouldn't be 100, but in some cases 60 and 80 might be too slow.

Reasons already given. I do think we need a strategy and some reductions in speed but not to 30km/ h everywhere.

Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

This is completely ridiculous, if you want us to drive at 30km then we better just leave the car at home...but we can't, bus services in Rotorua are poor and inefficient, it takes you 1hr to get anywhere when driving could take you 15min. All the current changes in speed limits; for example going Mourea/Okere falls/Rotoiti don't make any sense at all.

Q9. Q10. He aha ai?Why?

People need to learn to drive at the conditions, rural roads are perfectly fine when they are kept in good conditions (no holes). I think the problem here is people driving skills. It's completely unnecessary to drive at 60km/h when there are no people around.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

The problem is education not speed limit. Doesn't matter how much you reduce the speed if out there are people driving at whatever speed they want already, these people have no respect. It's very difficult to get more people on bikes and walking with the type of weather we have. The best you can do is to improve public transport like any other develop country in the world.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

I think any sensible person will drive to the conditions. Seldom is there opportunity to go 50 in town in the smaller streets. Those that speed now do so regardless of consequences as there seems to be none. Dropping the limit will not stop idiots speeding.

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Again it will be implemented regardless of community feedback! If our roads were kept in good condition e.g. addressing of potholes etc. a lot of people texting on phones these are the issues that need to be addressed. This presents for a massive revenue gathering system for speed cameras.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Refer to my previous comments re. Road conditions. If the composition of the mix used in repairs and laying of new roads was of a high standard they wouldn't deteriorate so quickly. Responsibility needs to be undertaken by the company using and laying of these products. I'm guessing it's imported!! Texting is a huge issue to driver distraction. Get behind the wheel and stay focused!!

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

The proposal is going to create a lot of frustration. Not all areas are marked clearly or the speed zones already fluctuate ridiculously within a close proximity in some areas!

Click Here to enlarge map

Āe | Yes

Q4. He aha ai? Why?

Would like local streets to feel safer and more people-friendly for active modes; lower speed limits should result in a reduction in mean operating speeds which would be a great start. However, realistically I don't think a 30k/hr speed limit would work for urban connectors linking neighbourhoods and would not be tolerated/adhered to by the majority of drivers.

Q5. Pātai tahi ira rua ira rua (Question 1.2.2):Ki te kore koe e whakaae, e tautoko ana koe i te whakaheke pae tere ki te 30 kiromita i te haora, rima rau mita te tawhiti i waho tonu o ngā wāhi urunga o ngā kura katoa tāone mai, taiwhenua mai. Q8. He aha ai?Why?

It is actually already not safe to drive above this speed, given the number of vehicle manoeuvres in and out of parking spaces, etc. If we want to encourage more pedestrian use of the CBD, we need to make it more people-friendly and less car-centric. Lower speed limits is a good start. Let's take it further and give pedestrians priority throughout.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map Strongly Agree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Most NZ roads are not built to travel on at 100, although people use this as a target speed when driving. Dropping to 80/60 should see a drop in mean operating speeds on rural roads, which often have poorer safety in construction (bends, no shoulders, etc) and other risks (livestock, rural school bus stops, farm vehicles, etc)

Q11. Lowering speed limits will help reduce the number of speed-related crashes Agree

Q12. Lowering speed limits will reduce traffic noise Agree

Q18. He aha ai?Why?

For the reasons I have already provided. This will be one of the levers towards encouraging greater uptake of alternative modes. It may feel uncomfortable for some car drivers, but the reality is that in the urban environment there won't be a huge impact on travel times.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

What area qualifies as the CBD? Not clear on your map. Some streets close to the CBD are long wide roads e.g. Fenton St. i dont see the need to reduce these to 30km/h. We need to encourage traffic into our city centre for local business survival - reducing speeds is likley to put people off from driving into the centre

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Rural roads are very diverse in terms of quality and density of population. Drivers have to drive to the conditions already so I see no reason to restrict speeds arbitrarily on a blanket basis.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

What is being proposed is totally over reach by the authorities. No consideration has been made as to the economic impacts nor the impact on mental health or likely increase in civil disobedience and heightened road rage due to extremely slow traffic flows. No data has been provided to support the assertions around the level of fatal or severe injuries that have occurred within Rotorua urban streets (solely due to speed) let alone any scientific evidence of the impacts of implementing these proposed changes.

Where is the discussion of adopting the bare minimum of changes as required by current legislation including using variable speed limits around schools reducing speeds only during peak school traffic and reverting back to current levels outside of these times such as for nights/weekends and school holidays?

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Reducing speeds other than outside schools is totally unnecessary. Those that break the law and speed with continue to do so. 30km will cause people to pass in all sorts of places because of frustration, we are not a small island where 30kms is acceptable. This is a ridiculous idea and a total waste of more money.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

It's not necessary. The speed limit has nothing to do with how unattractive our town is - our town has far bigger problems to sort out ie homelessness, crime, ram raids. Why don't you spend money and time on these problems rather than dropping a perfectly acceptable speed limit.

It's not going to stop those who speed, it is definitely not going to improve the city's vibrancy and it's not going to make me walk or bike 8km to work in this crazy weather. It's just going to infuriate everyone

Come on Council, it's time to use some common sense and scrap this silly waste of time and money idea and focus on the crime and shady characters in this town!

Click Here to enlarge map

Āe | Yes

Q2. He aha ai? Why?

Because safety and access for PEOPLE (not only people in cars) is where we need to focus our energy. reducing speed limits to 30km/ hr around schools and residential areas makes so much sense. These streets will not just be safer the key message is they will be so much nicer to live on, walk on, cycle on, play on. Many people who can walk and cycle need to do so more, and reducing vehicle speeds will help, slightly reduce the efficiency of driving which hopefully will steer people towards other more sustainable choices, which are not just better for the environment but better for them personally, from a health and social aspects.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

The CBD is where we want people to be moving around, crossing roads between shops and cafes and meeting friends and whanau. Its a place where everyone in our community needs to feel welcomed and cared for. If we design our CBD around driving and cars we are excluding many people who cannot drive, cant afford a car and others who are too old or too young to drive. The CBD is a destination, if speeds remain at 50km/hr this creates severance between sides of the streets, it means it becomes less safe and much less easy to cross the street, especially for a disabled person or a young person. We absolutely need to provide access to the CBD by car (albeit not all of it) for those who need their car, but access does not need to be provided at 50km/hr, access at 30km/hr is fine. The streets will be more plesant with lower speeds, it will likely have lower noise and be safer to ride bikes on too. Although we do need safer crossing and more bike space in the central city.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). Q10. He aha ai?Why?

as long as signage is clear and there are also some physical changes that indicate the change- great. Speed should be lower where children are - its safer and the the lower speeds will make very little time differenece to someones journey but a massive differenece if someone is hit by a car travelling 100 vs 80km

Q18. He aha ai?Why?

because it will result in safer streets (as long as its not just signage!). It will enable and encourage more people to walk and cycle- which will create nicer places to live, stronger more connected communities and will be an excellent step towards enabling EVERYONE to participate in life through improving access. Currently most streets are designed only around the cars needs with little consideration of what people walking or riding a scooter might need? for example shade trees, a berm so the rubbish bin isnt blocking the footpath etc. Once more people are walking and experiencing our streets as people not just people in cars, our communities will really thrive.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Yes - as well as 30km/ hr speed limits i would LOVE to see filtered permeability in our residential areas, this hugely reduces through traffic while retaining access. It also makes taking the car somewhere alot more circuitous but make walking and cycling more direct and safer(with reduced volumes on many streets). I live in Lynmore and i see part of Iles Rd is proposed at 50km/hr- this does not make sense, even more so because the school is located on this road. The Lynmore area should be a blanket 30km/hr. Iles rd is ONLY providing access to residential properties, therefore retaining a section of it at 50km is not needed. The last thing we want in these changes is confusion- I would encourage you to keep it really simple and clear- this is so important for people to understand it. Retain your vision and don't tweak roads here and there for a few individuals- this will water the whole vision down and the vision is GREAT. These could be modelled in terms of scale - off the low traffic neighborhoods which are approximately 1km radius. The intension you can drive everywhere in the 1km - but its faster on foot or by bicycle if you are going somewhere within or just outside the 1km. and everything inside the 1km is slow

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Outside the so called "safety" consideration there doesn't seem to be any indication that impact on people was considered, especially cargo businesses travel times etc. This will not reduce pollution or traffic. Cars will be on the roads for longer periods if time. Also having different roads with different speeds in the same suburb will be confusing and frustrating.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

If the 30km zones go in for schools they need to be managed around business and school hours...meaning that impose it one hour before and after school but not outside of that - not at night or weekends or evenings or during the day when school is in.....this needs yo work for everyone and rotorua. Not just because the government believes it needs to happen

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Reducing speed limits will not reduce accidents, this method will never succeed we need more education of drivers of all ages. We need to show the results of injuries sustained, and to heck with triggering some people's reactions to this

More investment needs to go into public transport frequency, extended public transport hours and infrastructure for cycling and walking. Dropping kids off by private vehicle at school should be discouraged.

I do not beleave people will drive at 30km . You get impatient drivers sitting on your tail doing 50km on Fenton st now. This may result in people losing their license as it will not take much to exceed the speed limit. This is going to add to driving times for rural dwellers coming into Rotorua

Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

To experience the proposed speed I (an RN) have recently driven with a passenger (a GP) in the CBD and urban streets at a speed of 30kph and we both believed it to be too slow. 40kph felt to be more appropriate. 30kph is too slow to the point of ridiculous

This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map Disagree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Open road should stay at 100kph, particularly straight roads with appropriate signage at corners with recommended speeds as they exist at the moment. What about reducing speeds at corners. More Police on the roads monitoring for those who do not obey the road rules speeding, dangerous overtaking etc. More speed cameras. There are plenty of safe drivers out there and plenty of unsafe/idiot drivers. They need to be caught and discipline accordingly

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Existing legislation is drive to the conditions. Existing legislation for speed limits, and for enforcement of speed limits. Existing legislation, and ability of council to set speed limits where necessary for specific situations and locations where lower speed limits are needed. Existing legislation and technology exists for variable speed limits when necessary - flashing lights/LED speed signs/etc and to be standard speed limit when it is safe to be so. Variable speed limits will be more engaging and more respected with better compliance and less public outcry and revenue grabbing.

Strongly Disagree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Drive to the conditions. Existing legislation and means of enforcement. For specific high risk roads different speed limits can be set. Lower speed limits is not a substitute for good road design, good road construction, good road maintenance. Otherwise it all will lead to discussions of revenue grab and unnecessary bureaucracy.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Police will be out in force in areas of reduced speed limits, especially rural roads, as an easy way to get the statistics up and increase revenue. Instead leave the speed limits where they are and effectively police the roads. Drivers who are on their phone, drunk, drugged or idiots are the causes of the accidents and injuries, NOT the average law abiding citizen who drives to the road speed limits and conditions. It's not the roads or speed limits that cause the accidents it's the morons who do not respect the conditions.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

No need of changing speed limits. Provide better infrastructure first, then the speed limit won't be a concern.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Invest more on infrastructural development. You will be able to generate money for this by imposing surcharges on fuel.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

By allowing connector roads and lots of Rotorua city to be at a significantly reduced speed means that vehicles would travel at little more than crawling speed which is a backward move.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

To make most of Rotorua a significantly reduced speed limit zone is very backward. This will cause more congestion and traffic pollution. To think that people will not use their vehicles in preference for walking our biking is very naive. All it will do is create more stress in the communities wellbeing.

Central government should be tougher on bad driving and focusing on driver education starting at school and improve our terrible roads. Use of temporary electronic signs around school pick up / drop off times is much more sensible than blanket speed restrictions that mostly frustrate people.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Reducing speed limits wont create any of those things you have listed.. Enforcing current speed limits needs to be done to stop reckless driving not making it difficult for the rest of us to get to work. Make suburbs nicer so people dont have to travel for recreation and that will reduce traffic. If you choose to live in town cars sre a reality not a demon but a necessity stop being so puritanical. Enforce the current laws and leave law abiding people alone. Life is tough enough with removing more of our time crawling to where we need to go.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

You consult on something you say is going to happen. That is not consultation. 28 per cent of rates to community well being is outrageous and not sustainable for people. We want infrastructure from Council not duplicated social services such as education and security we pay tax for both of those services by continuing to support them with rates you enable central government incompetence.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

The issues around speed at schools and CBD is there are some idiots around that drive cars and more idiot pedestrians around schools, especially high schools, who should no better at there age but seem to be ablivious to cars on the road.

Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

I can't see on the map which is the 'CBD' roads. It is showing most roads in yellow around the whole of Rotorua. However, 30km/hr is ridiculously slow for the streets within the CBD which have centre islands. Eg fenton and amohau street. Plus when the CBD is busy 20-30ks/hr is the approx speed of the traffic anyway.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Most of those roads can be safely driven at 100km/hr. Maybe lower the limit where there is high incidence of accidents due to speed.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Changing speed limit will just increase speeding tickets. The people of Rotorua are already struggling to pay rent or mortgages/rates. The whole economy is hurting most people. The police will be out to enforce the new limits and some people would have just got caught out because it takes a while to readjust mindsets.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Saying it will encourage school aged children to walk. How would lowering limits increase this. Some areas of Rotorua I feel uncomfortable walking alone so letting a child do so is just irresponsible. Also, I think lowering speed limits would just create more impatience and road rage. Some people choose to drive dangerously and above the speed limit - changing the limits won't stop the idiots.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

It is not going to stop the fast drivers. It is only going to hinder the average law abiding driver. The others will speed no matter. Lack of enforcement is the major problem. Police are not interested in traffic enforcement and are seldom seen doing any.

If not, do you support reducing the speed limit to 30km/h for only 500m from outside the front entrance of all urban and rural schools?

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Important to protect the safety of children in the vicinity of schools during term time, when they are moving around the school area in large numbers and likely to be distracted from watching the road. Speed limits should not apply outside of normal school hours, including during weekends and school holiday periods as this will restrict traffic flow unnecessarily.

Q8. He aha ai?Why? This broad brush approach to applying a permanent speed restriction makes no sense. This will only serve to impeded traffic flow for people trying to go about their business and the boy racers will take no notice anyway. Causing the majority of traffic to slow right down will only increase the speed differential between those following the rules and those choosing to break them, making for potentially more serious accident outcomes. Where are the statistics that show that there is a problem here that needs to be fixed in the first place?

Q10. He aha ai?Why? Once again those who disregard the existing speed limits will take no notice of the proposed changes. These will only serve to inconvenience law abiding people and increase the revenue taken in fines by Police and camera vans.

The cancelling of the Eastern bypass was a big mistake pushed through by RLC for questionable reasons. This action (after 40 years in the planning) has condemned the city to gridlock and will stifle growth. The cost and inconvenience of 4 - laneing Te Ngae Rd is also a disaster. Where is the logic in making a 4 lane highway (a major artery into the city) pass through residential areas with traffic lights at almost every intersection? This will seriously impact traffic flows and will stifle growth. We still have only the one road in and out and in the event of storm damage / road works / traffic accidents etc, we lose the only way out on the Eastern side of town. Ridiculous.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Speed limits are fine as they are - lowering speed limits will NOT lower death rate as distracted driving is the problem not speed. Those who speed dangerously now will disregard lower speed limits while the rest of us law abiding drivers suffer from lower speed limits.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Fix the potholes instead of new bi lingual and new speed limit signs - ticket distracted drivers.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

There has been road works on the main road going out to the airport with a 30 km speed. It has been just a pain in the bum and people use Vaughn Rd instead as they hate traveling at 30km. 50km is a safe speed for good drivers, others should not be on the road if they cannot safely drive at 50km. With regard to the 7 speed humps on Kawaha Point Road, I was told by the lady mayoress they were a mistake and would be removed, when will that be, please.

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Why dont you stick to 80 on rural roads and 50 in cities with an exception for schools in operation which would be 30. Mixing and changing speeds is very confusing. We went down Vaughn Rd which has no seed sign on it coming from town and was picked up for speeding because we presumed it was 60 along there still. The first 50 sign is way down by the new development. Very confusing.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

If people drive to the conditions and road type this wouldn't need a change. Its negligents that cause road crashes. I agree only with my other statements regarding speed changes.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

I have experienced young Maori overtaking a que of cars waiting to turn right into Bennetts Rd. He just overtook us all on the wrong side of the road, and turned into Bennetts Rd. That's not speed but simple stupidity, how will lowering the speed limit give them any sense. Education is needed.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

It will not encourage people to walk, bike or take the bus. Rotorua is already not safe and combined with poor lit streets, you are putting people at risk. Buses don't even go after 6 pm. Also, people's anxiety will be increased with build up of traffic and increased road rage incidents. This is the most absurd idea I have heard for a while.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Perhaps a focus of clearing the litter off urban and rural roads combined with more adequate street lighting would be better use of time and resources.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?/Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

All crashes happen due people not following road code. Crashes will still happen. As Ive said, the majority are being penalised thanks to those who do not observe the Code. And pedestrians need to take responsibility for their own actions. Girl riding bike home from school killed by freight train. What did train driver see? Was she trying to beat train??!! and others. What exactly has been caused? We are never told.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

30 km/h outside schools during term time makes sense, elsewhere crawling around at 30 will be extremely frustrating for residents and many will not keep to such a limit. Wherever there are vehicles in motion there will be occasional accidents, even in carparks where vehicles are moving even slower. The marginal safety benefits of a 30k general limit are completely eclipsed by the misery and frustration they cause. There are other traffic calming measures that can be put in place for specific locations where there are ongoing issues.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

You can make the country safer, reduce noise and pollution and encourage cycling etc by reducing all vehicles to a walking pace, it doesn't mean that it is sensible to do so!

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

I agree with having a reduced speed limit around schools at certain times of the day. Reducing the speed limit isn't going to stop people from speeding and having speed related accidents. It's disappointing that there isn't any statistics to associate with the SMP

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

As a tradesman it will be annoying and prohibitive to drive at lower speeds. It is bad enough now trying to get around town with just the roadworks slowing traffic down. It's not practical for a lot of workers to walk or cycle to work. Making the streets a safer place is more likely to get pedestrians and cyclists out and about. Improving roads and making footpaths wider are surely better approaches to safety.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Slowing down to 30kmh in CBD will just cause congestion, also, pedestrians already take chances crossing the roads everywhere, and if traffic is slower, they will take more chances and thus have a greater chance of being knocked over!!

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Rural roads are NOT safe, because people race at more than 100 kmh! Trucks in particular are a particular hazard on rural roads, as they speed along at breakneck speed! The sooner the speed limit is reduced on rural roads, the better!

Q2. He aha ai?Why?

As a parent of a young child who will be soon to commuting to school, as well as an active exerciser / mountain biker / daily commuter I would feel so much safer for me, and my family, if the speed limits were reduced.... However better monitoring also needs to be in place (Eg speed cameras / speed slowing mechanisms such as speed bumps). The top of Tarawera road is a prime example where the speed limit has been dropped (to extend the 50km / hr to the water tank) but people still speed, and overtake! Down that section of road. It will only be a matter of time before a mountain biker or pedestrian is seriously injured or killed. How about implementing permanent speed cameras again?

Q18. He aha ai?Why?

Having lived for 4 years in Vancouver where speed limits are low, and there are speed slowing mechanisms in place (speed bumps/road blocks/ one way roads etc) it is so so evident that this deters people from always driving (as it is not necessarily the quickest mode of transport anymore)! And promotes people to feel safe, and encouraged to use active modes of transport (or public transport).

Proposals take 'lowest common denominator approach, penalizing safe drivers for the sake of those who are less safe: how will these rural limits be enforced?? Cars/vehicles are much safer now with air bags, ABS etc

Q20. He aha ai? Why?

30km urban limits is borderline ridiculous: as long as people drive there will be accidents; some level of harm is always acceptable, when offset by the mass benefits of getting where one needs to, at a reasonable speed. Again, taking a blunt, lowest common denominator approach penalises the vast majority of us who do not harm others, or get harmed by others, resulting from speed limits that are 20km/h higher than those proposed

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

It already takes for ever to get around this town, the council has slowed down and caused traffic jams with it's ridiculous speed bumps already, hope I don't need a ambulance in a hurry, we need to keep the traffic moving. Stop bottling the traffic up,let it flow, malfroy rd is already at crawl speed at 3pm.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Adding to commuter time is not efficient for business and most modern vehicles are most efficient at 80 to 100 so there are cost increases with very low speed limits.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

I feel that most drivers are responsible and drive with care. Target the irresponsible and let the rest of us get on with our lives.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

With all the speed changes that have already happened in NZ it is showing they are bringing reduce way too much and more accidents and road rage is happening. By reducing the speed limit it is not going to get people to leave there cars at home. You can not carry enough on a bike when shopping and it's not safe just to leave you bike on the street while shopping. Often it's gone when you come back out the shop and it's pointless going to the police as they don't have time to help

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Schools need the lower speed for safety.

Q7. Pātai tuarua (Question 2)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?Having a 30km/h speed limit in the CBDClick Here to enlarge map

Strongly Agree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

No need to go any faster. Most times you can't go faster than 30 anyway as people are looking for parks

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

There are many rural roads where 100kmh are suitable and safe. There are some others that should be reduced. Use a case by case

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

A blanket reduction across the board would affect emergency services response times. Firefighters can have a defence for going 15kmh over the speed limit. This will mean that they will be only able to respond to life threatening events at 45kmh instead of 65kmh I would like them to respond at the higher speed to my family especially for CPR medical events

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

No thought is given to emergency services response when it comes to roads including judder bars/speed bumps no possibly this. Tell the families who a family member has died due to the slow response. Most of the serious crashes and especially deaths are caused by people going over 50kmh this new proposal will only slow the people that obey the speed limit. More speed cameras and police presence would be way more effective

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

I don't think it will change the drivers who are breaking these limits and driving dangerously. Maybe more education around driving, how to drive, being aware, to not be distracted, consideration of others, not using phones. (that is common), Courtesy on the road. Generally manners.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

I think most drivers are very capable and trustworthy, and I don't see why all drivers are penalised to go slower, because of the few, when these speeds have been working in the past adequately. I do realise that the built up areas are increasing. Put more trust in the people.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Because there will be greater effectiveness by having electronic signage 250m either side of the school gate to serve as a reminder to the law abiding drivers. The other numerous reckless dangerous and aggressive drivers that Rotorua is famous for won't comply anyhow until it is policed in those areas instead of hammering the compliant side of town.

Q10. He aha ai?Why?
Because in our experience with reduction of Tarawera rd to 80kph past our property has not seen a reduction in speed or seen much compliance policing. Instead the Police and speed cameras sit down by Selwyn road and hammer Residents for 3kph over 50 in what was a 70kph zone til recently.....so when drivers get out of the tedious 50kph at the top of Tarawera rd to the 80kph they like to do more like 100-110kph (previously 100kph) so are you just making law breakers out of inherently good drivers while the real idiots and dangerous one run amok where they are not Policed, seems like it.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Because so far Road to Zero and speed reductions has not shown to be effective to reducing crashes and money and effort would be far more effective in education and policing the hard targets who drive in such a dangerous manner that its seriously disturbing to move about the town in fact almost every trip involves some sort to near miss. The standing joke is don't go when the light turns green in this town, so spending time, effort and money handwringing about should I reduce the speed limit to make a more livable and safe community is sorry to say near worthless given our wider community issues. Spend the paltry $6 million on electronic signs near schools and leave the rest of the district as it. Lord knows we've blown more money on other stuff.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Your Safety and Wellbeing bullet points. Start listening to Greg Murphy...driver skills and education, a far better expenditure outcome. Police the dangerous drivers moving around our town, be visible in those areas not hiding in Lynmore. Fit Electronic speed signs 250m either side of Schools so the other 12 weeks of the year drivers can move around unimpeded Remove the dangerous unregistered unwarranted vehicles off our roads.

All urban Schools have controlled pedestrian crossings already; all Rural Schools have speed limitations now already. Further more 300m or 500m is quite a distance. My local primary school only has a street frontage of 80m. That means 220m is driving past private/public residences.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

The current speed limits are fine. They just need to be policed more effectively. Were the speed limits to be reduced further than current limits, more people will try and break the limits through frustration.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

If the new proposed speed limits were to be imposed as they are, then effectively the whole and wider city & surrounds will ALL be 30 kph because of the geographic spread of our urban schools and the signalled diameter of the restricted zones. For Rotorua it would be confusing for motorists to have the areas between the School zones at 50kph.

Q5. Pātai tahi ira rua ira rua (Question 1.2.2):Ki te kore koe e whakaae, e tautoko ana koe i te whakaheke pae tere ki te 30 kiromita i te haora, rima rau mita te tawhiti i waho tonu o ngā wāhi urunga o ngā kura katoa tāone mai, taiwhenua mai.If not, do you support reducing the speed limit to 30km/h for only 500m from outside the front entrance of all urban and rural schools?

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

30km is very slow. In most places within the urban areas, the current speed limit is 50km which seems to adequately keep folks safe now. Speed limit of 30km for school zones, within the 500m range sounds great and I support this.

Q7. Pātai tuarua (Question 2)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?Having a 30km/h speed limit in the CBDClick Here to enlarge map

Neutral (No opinion)

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

The "CBD" area includes what i would not consider CBD. We have "suburban areas" included. The suburban areas should remain at 50km unless there are "schools" in the vicinity and then the 500m, 30km speed would prevail.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map

Agree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Currently the road conditions lend themselves to be driven at 80km

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Only need reduced speed around schools for safety reasons. Most other streets are okay at 50kmph

Q7. Pātai tuarua (Question 2)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?Having a 30km/h speed limit in the CBDClick Here to enlarge map

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Vehicles on roads have much better brakes and drivers have better awareness than decade's ago. It also looks like there must be a lot of public servants with little to do to push for these proposed changes.

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Modern vehicles are much better and safer than decades ago when the current limits were put in place. Some countries around the world 100kmh limit is considered slow. If it is considered 100kmh is to fast, maybe some drivers on the road should not be considered to be capable of holding a driver licence.

We need faster roads not slower roads that are safer. Simply reducing speed limits masks the issue of poor road design and investment. Re employ the bureaucracy people that have time to think up this stuff and put them to work 'on' the roads fixing them.

Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Cost, efficiency, policing. The roads are safe for vehicles. Pedestrians need to be aware and responsible of their own safety in so much as acknowledging the roads are for vehicles and footpaths are for foot traffic.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map Strongly Disagree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

There is nothing wrong with current limits and no evidence that reducing them would improve safety. This is just an exercise in generating revenue from speeding fines.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Changing speed limits will not fix the amount of crashes. It's peoples driving distractions which is the problem. It will not reduce pollution or road noise or get more people cycling to work, they will be putting around in a high gear causing more pollution and more congestion on the roads. People will bike more if the first meter of the main roads (Malfroy Road, Sunset Road, Pukehangi Road, Springfield Road) etc we're smooth to make them cycle friendly. The rough road surface is not nice to bike on and the super wide foot path which is not the solution for biking at speed to travel distances. With all the speed bumps around the streets you accelerate break accelerate break and use more fuel and create more noise. Have you not tried driving down Edmond road as that is a joke, someone was really trying to justify having a job.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

The proposed changes will cause grid lock in our towns

Q7. Pātai tuarua (Question 2)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?Having a 30km/h speed limit in the CBDClick Here to enlarge map

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

People should drive to the conditions on rural roads...Kaiangaroa to Murupara ...dead straight , visibility 3 -4 k over most of it...80 k speed ? Ridiculous Reporoa /Broadlands , where they have set nz speed limits , 80 k ? Ridiculous . Drive to the conditions ... not set arbitrary conditions .

Q11. Lowering speed limits will help reduce the number of speed-related crashes

Q19. He aha ai?Why?

not answered

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

1. How is it going to be enforced ? Tripling the size of the traffic division ? 2. Push bikes can exceed the proposed speeds . Will they be targeted as well ? 3. Many areas do not have public transport , this will not decrease the traffic on the roads . 4. It is likely to increase fuel consumption due to vehicles no longer operating in their designed power bands .

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

An ill-thought out proposal by people living in major cities , with adequate transport infrastructure .

Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

The vast majority of cars are extremely difficult to hold at 30km/h. This will also make travel through and around the CBD significantly slower and likely result in more vehicle accidents due to impatient drivers

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map Strongly Disagree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

This reduction in speed limits would adversely affect the operation of my workplace and massively increase commute times for rural dwellers. It would also cause problems for school students who rely on the bus to get to and from school

Q19. He aha ai?Why?

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

It is scientifically unsound and will cause major economic and social disruption to daily life in Rotorua. Motor vehicles are also difficult to hold at this speed which means thousands of speeding tickets will be issued daily, further exacerbating Rotorua's current socioeconomic problems. Reducing speed limits to 30km/h will leave ALL internal combustion engines operating at their least efficient, which will increase urban traffic pollution rather than increasing it

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

This plan shouldn't even be on the table. Rotorua has real problems that need real solutions. Lowering speed limits in the district is a solution looking for a problem

I don't think lowering the speed limits will make any difference. Just make the impatient driver more impatient. The speed limits are fine if you drive to the conditions. Lowering the speed limit isn't going to make more people walk.

Q2. He aha ai?Why?

We have kids that walk from home to school and back. There's a lot of cars that speed up and down in the area without a care and it's bad when the roads are icy and in wet weather too

Q3. Pātai tahi ira rua (Question 1.2):E tautoko ana not answered

the following?Having a 30km/h speed limit in the CBDClick Here to enlarge map

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

It's just a safer speed for all that live and walk the streets whether it be day time or night time

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Again, safer to reduce speed then to make it 100. There are also elderly drivers that can't keep up with 100 and therefore are likely to cause accidents with their reaction time if someone or a child is crossing the road

Q11. Lowering speed limits will help reduce the number of speed-related crashes

Āe | Yes

Q18. He aha ai?Why?

Speed kills and reducing it will give everyone a better reaction time. I don't mind the noise but safety is first on my list for anything related to moving vehicles

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Changing speed not going to impact that, people should just keep with the flow of traffic look at Australia you are fined for going too slow and not keeping with the flow of traffic. Making people drive ridiculous too slow will just cause more accidents. A reason for police to issue speeding tickets. Fix the pot holes so card wouldn't have to swerve in and around them.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

It's the stops signs around the cities and rural roads that need addressing- there are too many people driving through them. Dropping the speed limit will not deter these idiots. A car rear-ended me. The guy got out and asked why I stopped? I said... " it's a stop sign you idiot". Invest in cameras at stop signs - please

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Speed is only a minor component of deadly crashes; drink driving, not stopping at stop signs and young drivers without following the rules.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

For a long time people think it's speed alone that kills. It is not. Educate our young learners at high school about following the rules of the road. That is where the safety of themselves and others benefit. Too many drivers ignore the rules. Passing on double yellow lines, dangerously overtaking and why? Because they don't follow rules; not at home, school or on the road.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Outside of schools is acceptable to lower to 30 as kids are unpredictable. But not all streets. People will just speed or people will get more distracted going 30 as it feels so slow, so they will reach for there phone and then accidents could occur because you have lost the drivers concentration.

Q7. Pātai tuarua (Question 2)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?Having a 30km/h speed limit in the CBDClick Here to enlarge map

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Some streets are 30km areas and there are alot they are not, this will cause traffic delays/congestion and road rage.

Strongly Disagree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Speed is only the problem when people go over the current limits or if the road surfaces are damaged, so not sure why all other drivers are getting punished. If you are going to speed, you are going to speed, no matter what the sign says.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

By changing the speed limits you will cause frustration and distraction for drivers. Yes change around schools, but that is it. It also will cost businesses more due to transport delays/staff costings and therefore will increase the cost of products/services for the everyday person.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Children are most at risk right outside of schools, when school finishes lots of kids are all released at the same time so this minimizes the risk. I think it should only be during school hours so 8am-4pm. Children aren't walking to school because the town isn't safe not because of the speed limit being 50ks. Fix the gang problems and the roaming and aggressive dogs then kids might be able to walk safely around our town

Q19. He aha ai?Why?

not answered

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

It will not improve safety, the accidents are related to people not following the speed limit now reducing this is just revenue gathering in speeding tickets and wasting police resources that should be better focused on making our town safer

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Most residents in Mamaku travel our mains roads at 100km and it takes us 20mins to get to rotorua, dropping the speed will only make the drive longer and most residents will ignore the speed limit. I travel dansey road up 6 times a day for my job, if the speed drops it will make my job more challenging.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Dropping the speed, in my eyes, doesn't change much. The speed has been dropped to 80km, 200m from my house and no one slows down unless a police car is present. I would like to see a curfew for the speed change, drop the speed between certain hours for all education facilities. That way the community and the schools are equally happy

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

We are dumbing down the people of the future by bubble wrapping them with false safety. They now expect vehicles to stop for them while they crossing the road when there isn't even a road crossing. We were brought up to watch and give way to vehicles, cross only when safe to do so. My parents number 1 rule was "steel breaks bones". We need better education on pedestrian road safety. The roads are meant for vehicles, not pedestrians. That's what the footpaths are for

Q9. Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Speed is not problem. The problem is people not staying on there side of the road. I have seen people driving at 60km p/h on roads and are still unable to keep their vehicle to the left of the centre line. I feel that there needs to be more education and even harsher penalties to those who cut corners or can't stay on their side of the road.

I feel we are looking at the wrong thing. We should be getting the roads fixed back up to an acceptable standard and educating people on road safety and enforcing it other than a temporary quick band aid fix up.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

I would like to see some detailed stats on the high speed crashes that has helped the council come up with this idea as i feel some of these crashes will have other detials like "vehicle crossed the center line", "driver was under the influence", "driver fell asleep behind the wheel", "driver was using electronic device" etc. This will help the public with their decisions.

Q6. Why?

You can't solve all road related problems by simply lowering speed limits, in order to attract people to walking and biking you should make them more appealing not make cars more inconvenient. Plus such a large change seems likely to just be ignored.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

I can see lowering speed limits causing traffic jams, angry drivers and non compliance.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

I believe that we should encourage people to walk places, ride bicycles and rides motorcycles. Motorcycles are treated like a nuisance when i believe they could improve congestion and lower emissions but the acc levies are too high to make this attractive for people. Also in order to attract people to these alternatives we need better public transport and safe places to lock bikes, more car free pedestrian areas might also work.

This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map Strongly Disagree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

It's open rural roads!? Why are we making them slower? Are we growing towards a future or falling back? Because this proposal is a joke. It's rural roads? It's safe for 100km speed limits? In other places of the world they're actually increasing speed limits on open roads, not lowering them.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

It's a piss take. Our speed limits are not broken so why fox them. It's the people behind the wheel who put other people at risk. Not the speed limit.

This whole proposal is taking the piss.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

People still have to get around town, this needs to be safe and efficient, 50kms speed limits in areas where foot traffic is light has worked well for a very long time. Totally agree with lower limits near schools and the CBD but this cannot be a blanket, city wide approach. Making it more difficult to get around Rotorua will frustrate drivers even more. vehicles have more safety features and better systems to help avoid accidents. Keep Rotorua moving.

only partially, slower speed zones around schools, daycares, shops etc but not all roads need to be 30km, speeding may be part of the problem, but there are many other factors that our out of your control that will mean accidents will continue to happen. where are the plans to add safer pedestrian crossings or better cycleways and signage?

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Where are the statistics to show the current number of accidents or amount of air and noise pollution provided, this is difficult to find and if you want us to say it is going to make it better then how do we know how bad it is in the first place? A large number of pedestrian accidents are people over 85, why is that? There are a number of other industries and businesses causing noise and air pollution in the city. Do kids still get taught road safety at school, are these lessons working? People are just going to get more frustrated.

100km for rural roads is appropriate for the distance we travel. Most people are not idiots on the roads and I do not understand the purpose of reducing the speed limit? This feels like more power and control from the current government who should be sorting the state of the roads not wasting their time reducing the speed limits.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Lowering the speed around schools makes sense but dropping the total speed limit everywhere to 30kms doesn't seem appropriate or necessary. The focus might need to be more on the drivers and their abilities and experience rather than the speed limit.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

I think within the CBD ie from Ranolf to Fenton and Amohou to Whakaue at 30kms is acceptable due to pedestrian volume around shopping area but the remaining areas no less than 40kms. I can imagine the traffic jams if the traffic is 30km all around the proposed area

Q19. He aha ai?Why?

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

I don't believe the speed limits are the problem. It is the manner of driving, the large volume of unlicensed drivers and the volume of non road worthy vehicles. Drivers don't drive to the conditions, they don't keep safe distances and they race through orange/red lights. Parents dont 'Parent' their kids, youths think driving recklessly in stolen vehicles is kool and they don't get any punishment so why not keep doing it. None of this will be addressed by lowering the speed limit. It will just frustrate the out of the law abiding public just driving from A to B. It will increase the number of tickets issued but certainly wont increase the revenue as too many tickets go unpaid and are then wiped by the courts - unless you have a job and are a tax payer, then they'll hunt you down like a dog. While Police are issuing these ridiculous tickets, who is available to respond to reports of actual crime.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

People pass their full licence being able to identify hazards in an area, this is done at 50km. 30km is not required to be able to see hazards. Lights , pedestrian crossings are placed for a reason. No other countries are this insane. It's common sense. How many people have been hit in Rotorua CBD? Not many that have made any form of headlines. Why fox something & spend that much money, that doesn't need to be fixed

Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Speed reductions iare as unnecessary as the unused bicycle lanes - Bicycle lanes and removal of parking spaces were a very poor council decision that was obvious to ordinary people from the outset , yet council still proceeded. The CBD is already not inviting,making further restrictions to access that serve no purpose will only result in another reduction in CBD activity

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map Strongly Disagree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Wholesale speed reduction has already proven to be virtually ineffective. If the reality was actually a desire for safer roads ,rather than a politically motivated agenda to get people on bicycles and public transport , then there would be a real focus on Driver education . This, if delivered correctly would increase road safety. - Take a step back and consider the agenda that is being pushed upon us.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

For the reasons already stated - This is a politically motivated agenda which has very little to do with road safety.- Please do not dismiss my opinion out of hand .It is valid. Ditch it and add some value to our community instead - perhaps first by removing the beggars and criminals from our city streets that did not exist until the elected councillors allowed the govt to inflict this situation upon us.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

I previously made a submission when the lakes sewerage scheme was being planned - What sticks with me is that I was told at the hearing that I was wasting my time as the decision had already been made -This was by one of your elected councillors.- Please donot treat this situation in the same corrupt way.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

The proposed speed limits are unreasonable, the goal of zero road deaths and serious injury due to traffic accidents is unrealistic. Reducing the speed limits to the proposed numbers will only create frustration and increase stress.... this does not contribute to well being.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

In rural areas it is unlikely that people will choose walking or cycling instead of driving. more bikes on the road will only increase serious injury or death in urban areas.... unless there are cycle lanes throughout the entire road network. This government is unrealistic and this speed limit proposal to eliminate all serious traffic accidents is just another example of that.... wake up!

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Lowering speed limits wont solve any problems. The roads need to be maintained and built to a higher standard. Lower speed limits will only create more stress. More problems. More congestion. More speeding fines. More dangerous driving. Resulting in possibly more crashes and accidents

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Keeping people safe and bubble wrapped makes people dumber . People have become reliant on a system to keep them safe from accidents instead of making better choices. This needs to change. It cant happen over night. But making more daily living restrictions like lower speed limits does not help in any way.

I'm sick of being tailgated all the way home through Okere Falls and surrounding 60 km/h areas and the number of unsafe overtakes I see because people are so impatient. It feels as though reducing the speed limit makes driving less safe because the idiots don't care what the speed limit is.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

I have gone and looked at the evidence for 'safety' and there is none, I would also like to see evidence that this will produce a more vibrant inner city, this is a big statement that requires sound evidence to back it up. I would be happy to make it optional for a 30 to 50 zone,

We cannot safety proof society so where does it end? the problem with any safety measure is it always seems to require more and more laws and rules, this is not where I want our country to go, I am happy to live with life being unpredictable and a bit noisy

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

I am concerned where all these ideas are coming from, they are not driven locally but rather from a foreign and unelected organisation and a problem reaction solution model, I do not support any more laws or regulations that continue to curtail and restrict my neighbour/fellow human beings, we have enough already.

We have introduced vehicle free spaces, if 30 km is set to save lives how many more will we save if we set 10km or 5km per hr. Have vehicle free or 50km areas. What happens as our population increases. Gridlock

Safe driving at 100 km is possible if by dropping to 80 or 60 will save lives then why not 50 or 30 km on rural roads. Spend money on driving skills with policing and heavy fines for speeding over limits.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

All of the proposed benefits indicated in this survey also have counter arguments. Reduce pollution - no increase pollution due to congestion. Reduce noise - no because cars are on the roads longer. More people will use bikes or walk because it's safer - no forcing people to do things is not how you get them involved. A better city space - no more confrontation and stress and lack of time.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

If it's all safety then ban mobile traffic. If it's climate based then redo your sums they don't add up. It's it's safety then spend time educating kids about traffic it is dangerous. If you need to get more money from ticketing people then your on the right track. And please don't tell me that by reducing our carbon foot print will influence world climate change one iota. We do not need to be leading this thing to our own economic detriment.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Somen people drive slower than 50km and sometimes we all do at our own discretion. I am not aware of any people getting hit by a car in the CBD recently to have cause for change.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Being rural roads it can be safer to allow people to drive at the current speed limit rather reduce it because people are impatient and this could cause accidents. I can imagine police will hide in odd places to catch someone going 70km in a 60km zone when for years has always and currently at 80km. I believe best to keep speed limits but could have safe reminder signage on higher risk roads and tickets to those exceeding 100km zones. Could revise on speed limits for corners of higher risk roads thats more often when a slip off the road can occur.

Q18. He aha ai?Why?

Q19. He aha ai?Why?

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

There are factors that should be taken into consideration. Car accidents can happen at low speeds, on corners even at reduced speed limits impatient drivers could infact cause more accidents. Better to have safety reminder signage revise on bends corners and to ticket those exceeding 100km zones.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Just focus on high accident zones it isn't necessary to be all the areas asked of on this survey.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

A blanket rules dont work, hence we have a MAXIMUM limit, YET we are to drive to the conditions as the roadcode teaches. Except people don't know and apply the roadcode hence these bandaid decisions proposed will never work as it's not applied to the sick person! Let me explain traffic and behavior A good driver anticipates and corrects other people's mistakes all the time Participation in traffic, apart from getting from A to B is all about anticipating other people's moves and behavior and respond to it in the CORRECT way and CORRECT YOUR movement in order to AVOID (potential) crashes. People don't adhere to the limits as it is. At best one could say they drive to THEIR conditions, which relates most often to THEIR driving ABILITIES which are MEDIOCRE at best as they never learned to adhere to the MINIMUM standard in order to participate in traffic In a safe and orderly manner to begin with. Driving schools were something foreign until recently. To change the problems we're facing EDUCATION is the ONLY way. If people aren't ACTIVELY TAUGHT HOW to BEHAVE in traffic, they will NOT OBSERVE the RULES as they're merely dealing with acute problems and deal with them the best they know how. Except that they havent been shown how. So it revolves around erratic, self centered as thats all they can handle, avoidance of accidents and situation in order to get to their destination. Road use is a privilege that comes with RESPONSIBILITIES and ACCOUNTABILITIES and CONSEQUENCES.except that there are no consequences for misbehavior like being send back to driving schools in order to meet a certain MINIMUM standard or else not be allowed back on the road. So, adding more rules isn't going to help as the people can't understand or apply the most basic rules, let alone those that make no sense.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map Strongly Disagree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

As per my last comment, it's not the MAXIMUM POSTED speed that is the problem so changing this will NOT SOLVE the problem. As it doesn't make sense, people will take even less notion of posted speeds. If the road layout isn't changed, nothing will change. I.e if. A road is (appears) very wide and easy to oversee a higher speed is driven. If there are obstructions (parked cars/trees, planterboxes, busy streets with lots of people potentially crossing/ kids playing etc etc) they will reduce speeds... IF. they've been TAUGHT to drive to the CONDITIONS. As these blanket rules are a band-aid to a broken bone one can't expect the PROBLEM to be resolved as it's not the RIGHT THING to resolve the problem. One needs to employ the right people who UNDERSTAND the PROBLEM in order to resolve it. Not every fire is put out by throwing water on it! Government thinks throwing water on will resolve the issue, but it's been doing the same thing while expecting a different outcome, which is the definition of insanity. Employ the right people who understand these issues. Understanding Traffic is only a small part of it. People behavior and other things come into play but PEOPLE are the BIGGEST problem, not signage and conditions! A ROAD TO ZERO ONLY WORKS BY ELIMINATING ALL PEOPLE. Everything else is just lipservice EMPLOY the right people and TEACH, not belittle!

Q20. He aha ai? Why?

The most effective way to deal with traffic is to have it move from A to B in an as effective and most fluent way possible. Speed is only a SMALL part of this to accomplish this. Every time a vehicle is to start or stop more pollution is created. Noise, particles, fule emissions, damage. MOST wear and tear and DAMAGE to roads come from starting and stopping!!! As does noise. AS explained above, government is mopping the floor with the taps wide open. It's not understanding the issue and attacking it from the wrong angle

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu? Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Tell government they dont understand the issue and employ people who UNDERSTAND the problem so they can solve it the right way and stop government thinking blanket rules and quick fixes are the answer. Theyre not! Yes, I'm available for further discussion and consultation regarding this

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

I agree with trying to reduce the harm from road traffic accidents but don't believe that a Zero road toll is achievable. The speed limit is not a target, so drivers can drive less than the limit where appropriate already. It would be hard to police a 30km/h on so many roads. Having to drive slower would add to journey times to/ within work, which could create frustration. It could also add to pressure on families if caregivers have to spend longer away from home. If there is concern about the safety of cyclists and children using scooters and other wheeled transport, I think that time and money would be well spent in teaching them road safety strategies and providing high visibility gear (although it would need to be attractive enough to be used).

Q7. Pātai tuarua (Question 2)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?Having a 30km/h speed limit in the CBDClick Here to enlarge map Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Having so many different speed limits will be hard for people from out of town to keep track of and potentially distract them from paying attention to everything happening around them. There are crossings to allow pedestrians to move safely and I believe that 50km/h is reasonable for the majority of the CBD roads. The layout of the streets is more of an issue for safety of cyclists than the speed limit. The police station is within the CBD and having such widespread speed limits would slow down their response to emergencies or create increased risk if they often drove faster than the rest of the traffic.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). Taking into account traffic flow is important so that it is consistent not varying speeds everywhere. Slowing everyone down will lead to congestion.

Q4. He aha ai? Why?

Our roads in residential areas have become so unsafe with the speed that people drive through them. Many of these streets are short and winding and not suitable for 50km in any case.

Agree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

The number of near misses I have experienced and seen due to driving too fast in the CBD can be resolved by lowering the speed limit. It will make it safer for pedestrians crossing the road and cars pulling out of carparks

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map Neutral (no opinion)

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

For Sharp Road, the proposal is 80km/h however this is extremely unsafe and impractical. There are currently 10 properties using this 580m dead end road (soon to be more due to a subdivision) and we would like the speed limit on this road reduced to 40km/h. The road is dirt, regularly potholed and slippery in the wet. There is stock that is moved regularly on this road and many people that walk their dogs on this road. Reducing the speed limit to 40km/h for this road would make it much safer for residents. I completely agree with 80km/h and 60km/h on most other rural roads, especially through roads, but I strongly disagree on the change for shorter and dead end rural roads - those roads should be reduced to at least 40km/h. For the likes of Central and Jackson Rds, I would recommend the speed limit is reduced to 60km/h - currently people drive those two roads very fast which has sadly left pedestrians unable to walk up the roads now due to it being so unsafe.

Q11. Lowering speed limits will help reduce the number of speed-related crashes Strongly Agree

Q12. Lowering speed limits will reduce traffic noise Agree

Q13. Lowering speed limits will help reduce traffic pollution Neutral (no opinion)

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu? Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

The proposed speed limit for Sharp Road is 80km/h. As previously mentioned, this road is rural and a dirt road, approximately 580m long and can in no way accommodate 80km/h. The road surface is uneven, slippery in the wet and regularly potholed. The street community request that the speed limit for this road is reduced to 40km/h in line with the proposals for Ward Road and Fryer Rd. We have stock that are regularly moved on this road and many people that walk their dogs on the road. A speed limit of 80km/h for Sharp Road is extremely unsafe.

Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

50km/h is enough to slow down for an emergency stop, 30km/h through the CBD is just a way to increase police output for absolutely unnecessary reasons, if people are restricted to 30km/h then it's going to frustrate locals, you will see road rage increase and probably more accidents due to the people who regardless of a speed limit won't follow the rules and start cutting people off that stick to that limit. If you want to reduce speeds outside of schools thats okay, but it should be directly outside the school for 300m up and down the road, and to ensure that's kept to - add a speed camera, this way you can book offenders who won't oblige and it doesn't disrupt day to day living.

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

They're seldom used by me, but rural roads at 100km/h seems fine because they're generally less populated.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

As mentioned, it should be directly outside of school and speed cameras implemented to get money contributed to the community rather than making everyone suffer. Yes, it's a good idea to walk and bike, but unless it's incentivized (Deals for people to buy bikes) you'll see no difference. I also think that it would be a lot more traffic jams with people having to go slower, thus not making lights, panicking because they're late for work which will increase instances of speeding, possibility of crashes and more road rage.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Productivity will reduce. I think most people drive to the circumstances without being told too.

Q7. Pātai tuarua (Question 2)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?Having a 30km/h speed limit in the CBDClick Here to enlarge map

Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Again most people drive to the conditions and I'm sure this is only catering to the bad drivers that are going to speed anyway no matter what the requirements are

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

There will always be people who won't drive to the conditions however I travel the rural roads constantly and most people are careful. I would be more concerned about the foreigners who don't know how to drive

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Te Ngae road is in the process of being extended to produce traffic flow at the same time the speed limit was lowered defeating the purpose. This reduces productivity, people get frustrated then make stupid decisions.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

This will just cause added frustration and again catering to the non sensible drivers, concentrate on the state of the roads.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

people will get used to the changes. it might take a few months but people will get over their outrage and start to accept the new environment. i am a walker and often feel scared when out on busy city footpaths. fast cars push bikes off the roadway and onto footpaths, making it treacherous for a walker. it is the flow on effects of changes that people need to consider more. not just taking a bit longer to get to somewhere.

School children are too small and unpredictable, vehicles need to be ready to stop quickly. Also our law states it is 20km past a school bus picking up or dropping off children, so why not lower speed in front of school's.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

The change to 30km is a great idea in theory but in practice im not in favour of it because of the congestion we already have during peak hours of traffic. Reducing the speed limit again will cause longer travel times.

Ok... safer roads? ... no. Who will police it? you've already got trail bikes doing wheelies, wearing no helmets or safety gear screaming around at high speed in front of police all around the city, and nothing is done about it. Quieter roads? .. not with the massive coarse chip you're now using. Slower vehicles, again who will police it? No one does now... Safer? There are virtually no deaths from traffic hitting pedestrians to report. Trees fall and kill people, so will you remove all these? Crazy ideas ...

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Dont need to change it if people actually pay attention and drive properly its like that already with the traffic you change it like that and it will just make them worse at driving and the traffic even more horrible then it is. Takes half a hour to get one side of town to the other change that and it will be a hour or more with how everyone drives now and the kids should already be taught to look before crossing stupid this whole thing and it will make speeding worse really if you think just a little you will realise how stupid it really is.

Q10. He aha ai?Why? DRIVE PROPERLY AND NO CRASH OR NEED TO DO THIS. Make people take regular driving tests to stop crashes if thats the problem there is no need to change it people already go the speed and way slower on those roads now it will be worse THINK.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

It wont do anything you talk about but make it worse genuinely think about everyone and how the treat the road it will get worse road crimes and traffic.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

There is no need to do this if people understand the roads properly. Maybe make it so people have to take regular driving tests to see if they are still good to drive cause most drivers i see drive horrible and definitely need it maybe that would change things not the speed limit that would make everything worse.

Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

People won't follow the speed limit and it makes it more dangerous for pedestrians expecting cars to be going 30 and they are actually doing 50+. 30km is a good speed for peak busy times but traffic is naturally slowed down then anyway, 30km doesn't make sense in the cbd when it's not busy

Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

50km is the maximum. Traffic lights, stop signs, pedestrian crossing etc.. already do the job.its a huge waste of money to change all the signs.its ridiculous.improve Rotorua instead of putting people off.imagine the whole city having to travel at 30km... Boys high needs a pedestrian crossing with lights. Buses and school zones already have a limit.this makes no sense.spend r money elsewhere please

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Reducing the speed on rural roads is stupid especially if you use said road to get to& from your employment..plus 80kph wastes fuel. I have tested this with multiple vehicles 80kph is fine on a flat straight road but on a curvy inclination, or sweeping road your Rev,s are up&down at 80kph wasting up to 3liter,s of expensive Fuel

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

I feel that 30km is to slow and it will cause traffic congestion as most children do not walk and ride to school due to children being approached by strangers rather than any problems with traffic in the suburbs which all have footpaths and little traffic . The main traffic is people going and coming home from work which is well out side the school hours. Speed bumps could be placed either side of the schools to make sure that cars are slowing down before getting within 50 to 100m

Āe | Yes

Q4. He aha ai?Why?

Smaller side streets tend to have lower visibility or increased hazards for drivers to be aware of. Additionally there are a lot of streets these days with speed bumps to try and force people to slow down, but often different vehicles can drive these at drastically different speeds

This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map	Disagree
Q10. He aha ai?Why?
Reduction of the whole area to 80km I feel would be appropriate - this makes the speed limit consistent and removes a transition where people are often impatient. This is especially evident outside of Ngongotaha and Hamurana where the open road sign is used instead of the 100km sign. People often don't recognise that these signs indicate a change in speed limit anyway

Q18. He aha ai?Why?

I think that the idea behind the plan is a step in the right direction, and that in the future it will be refined further if needed. I also think that the feedback requested as part of this survey goes a long way to ensuring that people with genuine concerns and feelings surrounding this issue are the ones responding

Lower speed limits are going to be more effective as the uptake of hybrid and battery electric vehicles increases. While I don't expect that it will change a huge amount for pure ICE vehicles, vehicles like the Toyota Aqua will be able to cruise at low speeds around the CBD using purely electric power which would reduce pollution and noise

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Schools with lots of movement of children and adults need to be 30kms always. I think 40Km for rest of streets is more realistic as people been so used to 50kms - people still do not completely stay with that on Fenton Street but it is certainly better than when it was 60km. Just takes time to adjust but do it in small steps.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Lots more people and need to be more aware of environment around vehicles using roads in CBD. Some road need to be one way and more people orientated so we all feel safe in our CBD again.

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Some 100 km roads you should never go 100 km; Drop to a safe speed so we can stop head on accidents and car going off road a bit more; Lakes areas of winding roads should be down to at least 70km but some need to be 60km to make it safer.

Q18. He aha ai?Why?

We need to be visiting the issue of speed always on our roads and environments. Cars can kill in the wrong hands. Make the road safer also without pot holes and bad corners. Drop down in speed seems reasonable to enable better driving also.

There will always be human choice so we are always going to have speedsters and people rushing to get to one place or another. So by dropping the speed limit there is some hope that we are training the next generation to be better drivers and have more time to view the area around their vehicle when driving to keep safe.

30 km/h is too slow. You will have impatient drivers. It will be confusing with different speed limits. The cost of changing signs etc, or is this a revenue gathering exercise.

Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Pick a street in the CBD Make it narrower Add some bumps Planter boxes Let the cafes sprawl onto sidewalks if they want to Make that one street 30 kph That's all I will agree to with CBD speed control. To make the whole grid of CBD streets 30 kph is nonsense in my view. Don't do it. Please don't do it.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map Strongly Disagree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Status quo is fine. Persuasive people would say roads aren't fit for the current speeds. I disagree. Sort out road maintenance, fund it properly. Repair roads. Clear roadside vegetation from blind spots. Put money into driver training, subsidize the licencing process in order to get more skilled drivers on the roads. Don't blanket penalise everyone for the sake of a few poor drivers, and to placate lobbyists from Wellington by furthering their dictates that are ideologically driven to remove private internal combustion vehicles from the road. Distribution of goods by road has a cost in time and fuel factor. We already have inflated prices for food n commodities. By reducing the speeds to the 60, 80 or less, you add time to goods delivery drivers journeys, and raise consumed fuel. Costs to ship anything increase, and this has to pass to the consumer. No, don't do it. Let them do it for the 5 or six roads around the beehive in Wellington. The rest of NZ can carry on.

Q18. He aha ai?Why?

Q19. He aha ai?Why?

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

It's nonsense that's why. Fix roads. Spend money. Survey your road assets frequently. Stay on top of the work. Fix dead sight spots that drivers struggle with like pulling out from a minor to major rural road. You want a safer more liveable city? You want more kids on bikes to be an easy target for the abusers? Deal to crime, deal to disenfranchised people that feel an excuse to steal, intimidate, ram raid, burglary, vandalised. Don't build ghettos, or housing precincts to load all these ones together. House people everywhere, all over the place. Every suburb.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

If Waka Kotahi policy makers have said this is what they would like that's very well for them to say so. I would say most of your survey returns will be not in favour of these changes. I certainly am not in favour. Drive safe around schools absolutely. Put up a few School Nearby signs, slow down. Safety messaging by roadside signs is fine. Advertising campaigns to raise awareness for safety driver behaviour near schools is fine. Changing the speed 100 m either side of the one or two school gates not a radius, just the street the school is on, I can accept. I can't accept the 300 or 500 m radius . This just locks out whole suburban roads into the slow zone. The map says it all. It covers most of suburban Rotorua. All of Mamaku. All of Reporoa. It seems the idea behind the change is to make every urban or rural hub road a "go slow" road to discourage driving and movement around cities or village hubs, and suburbs, and discourage car ownership and their use. That would certainly please the globalists and environmentalists, reduce that carbon footprint and all that rubbish. Live poor, own nothing. Don't leave your 15 minute boundaries.. I say let people choose to drive cars and choose to ride bikes if they want to . If the biking thing is such a good idea, everyone would be doing it, it would be so popular that the trade in bikes would outstrip cars, there would be more bike shops in town than car dealers. Listen to the voice of the people. Leave it alone. Don't let the ideologues push Rotorua around. Let them make Wellington CBD a 30 kph zone. Let them do the 60 80 or less for rural outskirts Wellington like Makara and Whiteman's Valley. Test it for 10 years. Evaluate. Then pitch it the country. If it's such a good idea we'll all be beating down our council doors to ask for Rotorua to have it as well. Should we have all these multiples of speed limit changes to city, suburb, in any radius of schools, and any rural non state highway roads? No we should not

Please do not go ahead with this. Target the ones speeding. Target those breaking the rules. Target the ones riding the motorbikes in the parks and foot paths. My children will not walk to school or ride due to them not being safe due to the gangs and also the bullies from other schools. Please don't make our life's harder. Costs will go up due to deliveries taking longer etc. Stop this now please

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

I support setting the speed limits outside schools to 30 km during the beginning and ending of school. The rest of the time isn't necessary. A blanket ban for all hours would just see vehicles ignoring the speed and the police don't have the resource to police it. Having cars going different speeds with some obeying it and others not, also creates safety issues. A example is the new speed limit between Sala St and Tarawera, with most vehicles ignoring the new limit. Cars with GPS's stick to the new limit but there is a 20km difference in speed to those ignoring it, which is unsafe. There are other issues that are more important to deal with and each school should be dealt with case by case and safety reviewed. The main spots that I see issues are at the Rotorua Intermediate with the driveway of the school being beside the pedestrian crossing which a times with cars turning, blocks the view to the crossing. Rotorua Boys High School has kids running across the highway, and NZTA should prioritise working on a solution for this school.

Q7. Pātai tuarua (Question 2)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?Having a 30km/h speed limit in the CBDClick Here to enlarge map Strongly Agree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Most of the time 50km is too fast and cars should already be driving at a safe speed which is 30km. There are other measures I would like to have considered. More pedestrian crossings and speed reduction measures. Some crossings such as Tutanekai / Pukaki St are major through fares and it is difficult to cross safely at times. This could do with a pedestrian crossing. Also at Tutanekai / Pukuatua Sts at KiwiBank, drivers often don't see pedestrians and shoot over the pedestrian crossing. Sometimes these are cars already doing 30km. This crossing should be reviewed and measures put in place to make it safer. It would be good to audit and police crossings to make sure they are safe and drivers are abiding to existing laws.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map Strongly Disagree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Drivers should already be driving to a safe speed on the roads. Road rules state to drive to conditions. If you aren't driving safely, you are already ignoring the road rules, so how would changing the speed limits sort this out. Also a blanket ban doesn't take into consideration which parts of the road are suited to 80 or 100km/hr.

Q11. Lowering speed limits will help reduce the number of speed-related crashes Disagree

Q12. Lowering speed limits will reduce traffic noise Disagree

Q18. He aha ai? Why?

not answered

Q19. He aha ai? Why?

not answered

Q20. He aha ai? Why?

I don't support a blanket change on speed limits. This is a lazy approach to making changes and will mean that most drivers will ignore the changes and create other issues around safety. All schools should have reviews done on what can be done to improve safety. This would be the location of parking, driveways, etc.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu? Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Put more time into looking at the areas that need safety improvements and where a speed change will actually make a difference. Changing the speed will just make most drivers ignore. If you can't get the traffic light timing at the Fenton Street / Te Ngae Road Extension correct, there are already vehicles breaking laws without having control. The amber light is too short for vehicles to enter the intersection at the change from green to amber and exit when it goes from amber to red. The light phases don't take into consideration the speed of the vehicles and how long it takes to get through the intersection. Trucks can't get through it in time.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Reducing speed limit will NOT stop people from speeding. Effort spent on safer ways to get children to and from school and educating safe ways to cross the roads would be better. A follow on effect of longer travel times with petrol prices will only add to the price of living

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Just changing speed limit will achieve nothing. You need to change driving culture. As long as "car is first" driving behaviour exists, the speed at 30km/h is as dangerous as at 50km/h. Prime local example is the failed transformed "city focus", low speed yes, safe for kids to cross? Not at all! Good to see that there are more shared path options now on main routes throughout town. However this is still not near enough to encourage e.g. biking to work as most urban roads, including the CBD have no designated bike lanes, nor designated safe parking for bikes.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Just changing speed is possible a quick win for council, yes we have done something so we don't have to think big. Would be great to see a true pedestrian and bike friendly city (and the necessary infrastructure changes to make it happen) where cars actually come 2nd and everyone knows you get from A to B faster by bike. Most urban roads are too wide and so encourage cars speeding. Speed reducing obstacles, think slalom, and installation of bike lanes would be great, so driving at 50km/h actually feels unsafe... You really need to invest to make our urban roads safer for our kids to travel on, just changing the speed limit will achieve little in terms of us feeling safe as a pedestrian or biker in this town.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Our speed limits are ok where they are, as far as outside schools i don't see why you have to change what's already in place like is outside sunset school in sunset road. It has the 40KPH SIGN & is on before & after school & off outside school hours.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

This speed limit thing is way out of control. Yes, around schools but only school hours. (variant). & in the very centre of town. otherwise leave limits where they are. Note. have you tried driving at 30kph IN A 50 OR 60 ZONE. The stats on this speed limit thing are nationwide. Have you done a study on speed problems in Rotorua to warrant a Major speed limit overall. If you do a blanket 30kph across Rotorua you are going to brass most of Rotorua off big time. Let's have some common sense.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Most serious accidents involving excess speed, are caused by people who have no respect for what speed limits are put in place. Generally drugs and alcohol feature as well!

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

For most of my working life I was involved with vehicles that were capable of high speeds and the people who drove/rode them. A percentage of these people have no respect for any form of law enforcement and have no concern for the consequences! These are the people who feature in the biggest percentage of serious accidents.

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Plenty of rural roads are absolutely safe at 100km especially Broadlands, if people want to travel under 100 that is fine but punishing people who can confidently drive 100km on there local rural roads is just ridiculous.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Safely of kids coming out of schools should be a priority, I don't believe making speed limits 30kms on all roads or side road will be beneficial for anyone except the nz police which will get a lot of revenue, I can't see the benefit or reasoning for lowering speed limits when it's known to frustrate people and create more dangerous drivers

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Firstly it is ridiculous... Speed limits don't kill it is the drivers .. This just yet another money making scheme. How many people are killed on our urban roads per year? The numbers do not warrant a radical and blanket change on our community.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

By the time children get that far away from a school entrance in the afternoon they have reached home or spread out. Also keeping the area smaller will make it easier to enforce. Making every small road 30kph is unenforceable.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Enforcing this will be impossible. Watching that low a speed will have drivers watching their speedometer more that the road. This will increase risk to pedestrians.

Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Because the average drivers are pretty good through town and the ones that cause problems aren't going to follow the speed changes anyway. It will just make it slower and more frustrating for the good drivers which will cause more problems with people being angry behind the wheel.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

I think in certain areas it's needed but generally speaking it won't really change that much. I live in Okere falls and there's at least 8 speed changes between me and town and most people i see driving don't follow any of them, they sit at an average of 70kmh until they get to town because it's already too confusing and there's stretches of a few hundred meters for one speed which no one cares about so i don't think people will follow the limits if they change in most places

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Speed changes only really punish the good drivers, the ones that drive dangerously will do it no matter what speed it is

Q2. He aha ai?Why?

I live on Bell Road Western Heights and am between two schools, Western Heights High School and Kaitao Intermediate. I am always amazed that no children have been injured or killed in the pre school and after school exodus. Parents who pick their children up are the worst offenders at this time. 50km/hour is too fast. I have seen cars speed around the bend in our road and lose control. Please, please lower the limit to 30km/hour.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Because there is so much more vehicular and foot traffic than there ever was before. It just makes sense to lower the speed limit. I, invariably, drive at 30km/hour in the CBD. So many people now who don't use the designated crossings and just pop out from between cars. So many parked cars whose drivers just reverse out of parking spaces without checking to make sure the way is clear. It is just dangerous to drive at 50km/hour. 30km/hour is just a safer speed in the CBD. Yes, please, lower the speed limit in the CBD and then I won't be abused and tooted at for only driving at 30km/hour.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). Q10. He aha ai?Why?

I had a neighbour who was driving his van on a rural road when a horse got loose from its paddock and ran across the road in front of him. He was in a 100km/hour zone. Wrote his van off, broke a hip and his back. He is now in a care home facility for the foreseeable future. If the speed limit was lower, he would have had time to stop before colliding with the horse.

Q18. He aha ai?Why?

People forget that the speed limit is not a target speed that we have to reach whilst driving our cars it is exactly that, a limit. Most times the limit is too fast for the surrounding conditions, but no wants to drive slower because, legally, they don't have to. Please lower the limits.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Reducing speed limits in town and excessively around schools will cause more speeding issues and more work for the police. While making the speed limit 30 for the whole of Rotorua is negative, school areas speed should be reduced to help protect children.

Q7. Pātai tuarua (Question 2)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?Having a 30km/h speed limit in the CBDClick Here to enlarge map Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Having a 30 speed limit will cause more people to be pulled over for speeding. The police will need a higher numbers to accomodate for more traffic related crimes. Speed limits being a slow as 30 will also increase traffic blockages and congestion.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map Agree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

I'm central Rotorua road speeds are already to slow however the reverse is true of rural roads leading to the lakes and other areas. Some of the roads such as to lake okeraka are 80kmh which is to fast for average drivers to go on those narrow roads. Reducing speed on these roads will help people navigate those roads without increased risk of accidents.

Q11. Lowering speed limits will help reduce the number of speed-related crashes Disagree

Q12. Lowering speed limits will reduce traffic noise Neutral (no opinion)

Q18. He aha ai?Why?

not answered

Q19. He aha ai?Why?

not answered

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Reducing speed limits to 30 will cause more accidents, more crime and congestion. Local government should not be focused on reducing speed in the cbd but instead should focus its attention on rural speeds and more importantly focus on fixing the surface of roads.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

The cbd and rural roads are not in good shape. Slowing down traffic does not return the roads to good condition. Money and resources should be used to improve roads to allow to traffic flow.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Its unnecessary. Most of the people who cause harm to others and make it unsafe aren't following the 50km speed limits as it is so putting down to 30km wouldn't make a difference. Its also a burden on everyone else who drives safely at 50km and 30km feels like a punishment

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Our roads are busy, reducing the speed, is not going to keep the roads flowing & moving. It will encourage people to break the speed limits, increasing the workload of our already over worked the police.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

The proposal to reduce the speed limit in Rotorua in some areas to 30km/h is not just a misguided decision but a potential disaster waiting to happen. While I agree safety on the roads is of paramount importance, this knee-jerk reaction to lower the speed limit without considering the broader implications is a classic example of political and bureaucratic incompetence. The proposed speed limit reduction will inevitably lead to heightened traffic congestion and excessive delays, especially during school time -which was the whole point of the change? Rotorua is a growing urban center with increasing traffic demands. Lowering the speed limit without adequately upgrading the road infrastructure will exacerbate congestion during peak hours, leading to frustrated commuters spending more time stuck in traffic. This not only wastes valuable time for individuals but also negatively impacts the overall productivity of the community. It results in people getting irate and studies have suggested that more dangerous maneuvers are performed. The local economy, particularly businesses dependent on timely transportation, will undoubtedly suffer from this proposal. Delivery services, transportation companies, and local businesses that rely on efficient movement of goods will face increased operational costs due to extended travel times. Small businesses, which form the backbone of Rotorua's economy, will be hit hardest, potentially leading to job losses and reduced economic growth. In a time where economic recovery is crucial, such a decision displays a shocking lack of foresight. Rotorua is renowned for its tourism industry, attracting visitors from around the world to experience its unique cultural and natural attractions. However, the proposed speed limit reduction will significantly deter tourists from exploring the city. Tourists, especially those on tight schedules, will be discouraged by the prospect of sluggish travel within the city limits. This will undoubtedly lead to a decline in tourism revenue, further compounding the economic repercussions. With the massive downfall of tourism due to Covid-19, do we really want to be further ruining Rotorua's tourist-hotspot reputation? Perhaps the most alarming consequence of this proposal is the potential impact on emergency response times. Ambulances, fire trucks, and police vehicles rely on quick access to emergencies to save lives and property. Reducing the speed limit without proper consideration for emergency services' needs could have catastrophic consequences. EVERY minute counts in life-threatening situations, and this proposal jeopardizes the safety and well-being of Rotorua's residents. The proposed speed limit change is going to severely impact responsible drivers who adhere to the current speed limits and they are going to be unfairly penalized for the actions of a few reckless drivers. In conclusion, the proposal to change the speed limit in Rotorua from 50km/h to 30km/h is a misguided, short-sighted decision that will have far-reaching negative consequences. The potential for increased traffic congestion, economic setbacks, reduced tourism, compromised emergency response, and infringed personal freedoms CANNOT be ignored. It is imperative that city officials reconsider this proposal and engage in a comprehensive, well-informed assessment of the potential impacts before making a decision that could harm the ENTIRE community's well-being and prosperity.

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

The sheer audacity of even suggesting that rural speed limits should be slashed from 100km/h to 80km/h and even 60km/h is beyond infuriating. It's like whoever has proposed this has never set foot on a rural road or bothered to understand rural life - probably want to slow down so cow poo doesn't go all over there electric car. It's time for these decision-makers to quite literally open their eyes, come back to reality, and understand that their idea is irrational and that rural roads are a different beast altogether. The community won't stand for this honestly stupid proposal that's more about control than safety.

Q20. He aha ai? Why?

This draft Speed Management Plan to change speed limits is a complete and utter joke. It's like they're playing a twisted game with our sanity. Whoever thought this brainless idea was brilliant, must have the IQ of a teaspoon. This plan reeks of incompetence, ignorance, and a total lack of respect for the people who actually use these roads. This plan needs to be tossed into the nearest rubbish bin where it belongs before it turns our roads into a complete and utter circus of stupidity.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

I think it will increase the level of driver frustration which will have a negative impact on driver behaviour. Also, there is an element of drivers who seem to think driving laws are not for them eg motor cyclists who speed and don't wear helmets. If people think our roads are now safer than before will that not lead to complacency on part of those sharing the roads.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

I've lived in numerous places that have done this and all it achieves is fratratuon, road rage, congestion...has no impact on safety . One of the best things about living in Rotorua is not having the same road limits and congestion as the busier cities. Let's keep the good parts good!

Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

This will waste a lot of people's time which is very limited especially if your job doesn't let you sit behind a desk but makes you drive all over town. We don't need to lower down the speed. What we need is to stop giving licenses to incompetent drivers, impound cars with expired regos and failed WOFs but are still being driven, arrest people who are caught driving without licenses, and roads without potholes.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). Q10. He aha ai?Why?

As I mentioned, it is not the speed limit that's the issue. Vehicular accidents happen due to decision making issues of drivers, poor road conditions especially when paired with bad weather, and unsafe car.

Even if you reduce the speed limit of all roads to 10kph, as long as there are stupid drivers aka incompetent drivers with valid drivers licence on the road, speed-related accidents will not be prevented.

The speed in the cbd should remain 50. As the majority of people will reduce their speed anyway when in populated areas.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

It's seen as an excuse to reduce the damage done to our roads for years. When in reality it just causes longer commutes thus more run time of vehicles (more fuel consumed sitting in slower traffic). Also more agitated people following those 20k under the speed limit. Reducing the speed I'd a bandaid. Spend the time on education and eliminating the brain dead mentality of it doesn't matter who's behind me. I'll just do my speed and think of no one else. Reduce the risk by campaigning "don't feel comfortable doing the speed limit? Pull over and let others past, thar way can commute stress free"

No my comments are pretty clear. (Listen to greg Murphys educational tips on driving changes that need to be made)

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

It's necessary to slow down around schools. All residential roads are excessive and the amount of signs and maintenance that will be involved is ridiculous. This is not the solution to the problem, NZ is terrible for speeding, reducing speed limits will not solve this.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

I agree that speeds should be lowered directly outside schools during school hours and half hour each side. At all other times, 50km is safe and sustainable. To ask people to drive at 30km per hour on all urban roads at all times is crazy. Outside of school times there is limited foot traffic, and suitable footpaths away from the road for people to safely use. 30km is a massive over reach of the council, no one will follow the limits and more people will spend more time distracted by phones etc. I know personally, at 30km I would be more likely to check my phone while driving as I would have more reaction time, but going 50km I am more likely to keep my eyes on the road.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

I agree that the CBD could benefit (minus Fenton road) from lower speed limits, but when it is busy, people are not able to travel 50km an hour anyway due to cars pulling in and out of car parks / searching for a car park. How many crash are happening in the urban area to justify the speed limit drops where the people are doing the speed limit? The people who currently speed with continue to do so, and will being going an even greater speed than those who are doing the speed limits.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). Q19. He aha ai? Why?

Q20. He aha ai? Why?

Because speeds are not the issue. Teach people how to drive better. Work on the number of people driving around with out the appropriate or any license. People do not need to drive 30km in urban areas where there are no school etc. In Waipu (Northland), where my family visit often, the speed limit has been dropped to 30km at all times. For 90% of the time this is stupid and no one does the new speed as it is too slow. When it is busy, the new speed limit is done as there is more traffic and this just naturally happens, as people are cautious, looking for car parks etc. People in the area have become more aggressive with their driving and road rage is high within the community due to the frustration of everything taking longer.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu? Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Reducing speed limits are not going to get more people walking, or using public transport options as they do not remain practical for a lot of people. I have a 1 and 3yo and need to be in the CBD from out east by 7.30 am. With catching the bus, I would need to get 2 children ready and out the door by 6.30 am, to get to the bus stop, then have to walk within the CBD. It is not practical for many and speed limit changes would not change our transport habits during the week as it would add over 2 hours to an already long day. All you will do is make people more frustrated at revenue gathering. People are already doing it tough, they don't need fines too cause the council are proposing stupidly slow speed limits.

Yes I think it is sensible to lower the speed limit within 500m on a school as children can be unpredictable particularly in large groups (before and after school)

Āe | Yes

Q2. He aha ai? Why?

For public health reasons, i.e., accidents at 30 are much less harmful than accidents at 50. Plus it creates a safer environment for all non-car users of our town's streets and footpaths. In addition, after an initial push-back it will become second nature to people to drive slower and thus get people in a more chill mindset. This could potentially lead to better driving behaviours overall, and therefore further harm reduction.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

As per my previous comments, and also because it creates a more people-friendly environment in the CBD, which will increase in importance over time as tourism increases (as latest international arrival figures are showing). We want people to be talking positively about Rotorua when they return to wherever they're from, and being in a place where non-vehicle users feel safe and welcome will improve the way people experience Rotorua. Also, as a local who works in town it's just a better vibe when more people are around - because they feel safer and more welcomed.

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Having previously lived in Hamurana when the speed limit there was reduced, after an initial adjustment there was no negative impact. It creates safer roads for our rural whānau, communities and people travelling through.

Q18. He aha ai?Why?

For all the reasons mentioned previously, it creates a safer place for everyone, by reducing the likelihood of harm from direct vehicle-related incidents, increasing liveability, reducing pollution and carbon emissions, tipping the balance in favour of non-vehicle options, etc.

The science always speaks for itself, regardless of what people might think, and in this case the science also aligns with the principles of manaakitanga and kaitiakitanga. Our town should be leading the way by demonstrating how we actually give effect to that.

The proposed changes are too broad and some proposed changes are unworkable. Reducing Vaughan Rd down to 50 was a reach but going down to 30 is ridiculous. Would question what data is being used to support these broad and expensive changes.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?/Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Please consider what you are spending ratepayer money on more carefully. This seems like quite a reach, what is the data backing these proposed changes? This is quite reminiscent of the 'green corridor' failure. If you are making changes to get more people to walk and cycle this is not the way, consult actual cyclists and get proper data and perspectives to inform decisions.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Makes sense around schools. Every other road? That's not a Road to Zero. That's a Road to Ruining Everything Do you actually think slowing every road to 30km is the key to a zero road toll? Is this just another way to control people. Absolutely stupid idea

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Driver behaviour needs to change not all speed limits in urban areas as this will cause congestion and frustration which will lead to issues anyway.

Driver education is the key. Compulsory defence driving as part of licence mandatory. Lowering speed limits around schools etc in Rotorua will only cause more problems and people will still break the speed limit. Case in point ridiculous 50k limit on te ngae Rd

Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Logistically a terrible decision for road users. There's areas where it will add massive congestion and time and $. I'm all for some speed reductions outside schools but 500m is a joke. Sort out the quality of the roads before reducing speeds.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map

Strongly Disagree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

80km/hr is too slow on open roads. Put some middle road protection and improve the quality of the roads.

Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

The actual cbd is tutanaki street and the side roads off it. I support 30km speed limit on this area only. There is no need to reduce the speed limit anywhere else. This is just stupid and will become a revenue gathering exercise. The roads are not safer travelling slower. We need to focus on driver education and pedestrians and cyclists need to take more responsibility for themselves. I see people running out of front of traffic all the time and it put everyone in danger there is no need for it.

I do not agree with this survey being written in Māori before English. Changing the speed limits outside school for 300m is a good idea during schools busy times but not during the holidays or any night when schools are closed.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

It is ridiculous! Right outside schools during school hours - fine but for all other times 30km is too slow. It will add unnecessary travel time and frustration. The reason I don't let my kids walk to school is not because of traffic, it is because of the anti social behaviour of who they might come across while walking. Focus on the crime!

Reducing speed for the majority of the roads used by commercial as well for the sake of 1 hour before school, and hour after school (2 hours out of 24h for 5 days a week, for 39 weeks of the year) do the percentage. How many children die from vehicles driving the speed limit vs domestic abuse. Put the focus where it's needed!

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

IMO changing the road speed down to 30 km/hr along every residential street is not going to solve the problem. The driver behaviour in Rotorua is disgusting and targeting that will be far more beneficial. The constant speed changes along short stretches of road is both frustrating and confusing for drivers. Examples of this is Te Ngae Road which goes 50 - 70 -50, and along Lake Taupo between Turangi and Taupo. NOONE does the correct speed limit and it's only a matter of time before there's a serious crash, particularly on Te Ngae Rd However, I agree with slowing the speed around schools as kids are unpredictable.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Enforcing to 1km of every school will mean from most of Rotorua Eastside will be 30km doesn't make sense and will be an issue for traffic in an area already designated for high intensity future growth.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Most of the speed we travel at is around 40km anyways. Reducing the speed will not make coming into CBD easy and potentially mean I'll not come into town to shop or eat to avoid the speed restrictions.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Not everyone that drives near schools has a child that attends that school- some people are just driving past and get stuck in the small amount of traffic that is already there, reducing the speed limit will increase traffic drastically, as nobody will be able to get through a set of lights as fast for example. People that dont have children should not have to suffer with the ones that do.

Q7. Pātai tuarua (Question 2)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?Having a 30km/h speed limit in the CBDClick Here to enlarge map

Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

30km/h is a big difference compared to the normal 50km/h. It will take longer to get to work, the supermarket or anywhere in fact. It is 100% understandable when a child will be in that area for 6 hours a day. Other than that- it's ridiculous. The only people that will comfortably at 30km/h are people that are too old. Which these people should not have their licenses anymore, as they loose all physical awareness and are very dangerous to other drivers

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map

Strongly Disagree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

You will get MORE people trying to overtake in stupid areas because they are impatient. Which is dangerous. If someone cannot drive responsibly at 100km/h do you really want them on the road? You don't want to give confidence to scared drivers because they get to drive slower on the roads.

Q19. He aha ai?Why?

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

The speed limit in the Rotorua CBD is not what is making it unsafe. The people that were brought here down from auckland are what make it unsafe. the crackheads you put in our motels make it unsafe. The druggies in the backpackers make it unsafe. Nobody is going to feel comfortable while they are around. Do something that actually effects the town in a positive way. Find the dealers? Clean the lake? Fix the museum? MAYBE ACTUALLY FIX THE ROAD? DO SOMETHING USEFUL WITH OUR MONEY

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

I hope this decision isn't to accommodate the old rich people that can barely drive as it is- we all know why the lakefront was done up. It definitely wasn't for the people of Rotorua

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

I think you're focusing on the wrong thing, the cbd is dying and this won't help people come into the city, if you don't want people to drive give them real viable alternatives, regular buses, every 15 minutes, areas to park bikes that are actually safe, and have a safe cbd to come to (I won't come into the cbd anymore after being harassed by homeless and I don't want to engage with the packs of youths who seem to enjoy intimidating people, we take our dog and go to taupo or Hamilton to do our leisure shopping and weekend brunch)

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

School holidays need to be taken in to account. The whole country is having bike/walk pathways put in. Children should be taught roads are dangerous. As are crossings if not taught to stop and look before crossing. Police presence more often around school leaving time. Including College/ High Schools. People should drive to the conditions. There will always be those drivers who never stick to the speed limit. There needs more pressure put on those drivers. A lower speed limit in built up areas during business hours could be a better solution. Some central city streets, it is near impossible to do more than 30 km now.

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

There are plenty of area's on many of these roads where you can safely drive up to the 100kph limit, just because it has a 100kph limit does not mean you have to drive that fast, driver education is what is needed!

Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

There's no need for a blanket 30km/h limit in the entire CBD. Some times it may be necessary (night market or other events). But that be managed with temp signage. A limit of 30 would be an annoyance - and ANOTHER reason to avoid the area.

Q9. Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Surely there are areas that can be pinpointed to requiring their speeds being addressed. Changing speeds with a blanket approach and then changing them multiple times seems like a costly and drawn out process. Find out which areas need change - and change them.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

This is too widespread an area and will only increase frustration among drivers. It will have a huge affect on bus timetables and peoples ability to travel on public transport to and from work and in to and around town. This could actually have the affect of discouraging use of buses and increasing the use of private cars.

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

The majority of drivers can drive safely at or under the current speed limit. It is a small percentage of drivers who find it difficult to drive within the current limits and show complete disregard to their own and others safety. These drivers will continue to breach limits and safety rules even with a reduced limit. Levels of frustration behind slower vehicles will increase and encourage increased risk taking.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Frustration leading to unnecessary risk taking and potential cases of road rage under any of the proposed speed limit changes will more than likely make driving more of a risk for many drivers -both the offenders and the innocent drivers. Enforcement will only use up more police money and manpower which needs to be directed to more worthwhile issues. Should speed cameras be used then I would predict that there will be a large numbers of non payments which again will require already stretched resources to follow up.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

I would support a variable speed limit around schools during the appropriate hours hours. Drivers would be able to see the presence of increased pupil and adult pedestrians and appreciate the requirement for care. Driving past a school in the evening or overnight does not require such stringent requirements and will likely be ignored anyway. Most schools already have good warning signs and either light or manually operated crossings. Council would do better to spend the money (our rates) for proposed costs on the Speed Management Plan on the maintenance of our roads and streets.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?/Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

How about trying too sort out the real trouble with this town and making it safer to walk or go anywhere, even into shops. Reducing speed limits will not help this town feel safer from the daily trouble but may even add too it. People will not want to bike or walk more because of what's happening in this town.

I support being safer around schools, and even the very inner city. But no amount of speed reduction will stop people without licenses, those who drink and drive or do drugs and drive getting behind a wheel and causing innocent people to die. Lower speed limits will cause more driver frustration and quite possibly increase crashes because of this.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

People already drive to the conditions i.e. slower if the street is busy or there are pedestrians crossing. Lowering the speed all the time will create problems with traffic flow. Lowering the speed seems to be a big overreaction to solve a problem that doesn't exist.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

The changes will end up making traffic congested and effect a lot of commuters. The benefits, if any, will be miniscule compared to the inconvenience to the public.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Lowering speed limits will not stop people being injured. There will still be crashes where speed was not a factor. It will take so much longer to travel around Rotorua which will affect a very large number of people. It will be a major inconvenience for a minimal benefit.

How would proposed new speeds be monitored. Is this realistic? I feel more police traffic management should be in place for the current issues before creating more issues with new restrictions. The current disregard for traffic rules should be addressed.

If not, do you support reducing the speed limit to 30km/h for only 500m from outside the front entrance of all urban and rural schools?

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

I believe there is a need to lower the limit around schools. Maybe only at the times that the kids and traffic are on the move. Kids have a habit of running out on the road without looking. Also the traffic is a hazard with all the parents picking up kids.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

I think its gone a bit far having 90 percent of the residential roads at 30. Fifty is a sensible speed you can stop on time if you have to. Having the whole town downto a crawl just doesn't make sense. I get it on high pedestrian streets like the centre such as Eruera, Pukuatua etc. But on the rest of the residentials I'm not infavour at all.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

If it went to 30 all I can see happening is a rather large amount of judder bumps having to be installed on every street.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

I live on a 50km road (Parawai Rd) with a cycle lane and one footpath, most with no curbing. The cars never do 50km an hour most a 80 to 100km. No one polices this now dropping to 30km is a joke, if 50km was policed more there would be no issues.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

Yes, policing the 50km zones instead of main arterial areas would reduce speeds, reducing to 30km and still not policing will not do anything.

No need to reduce speeds anywhere apart from around schools. It won't stop the idiots but will likely increase frustration and road rage.

Q2. He aha ai?Why?

We need to slow down the vehicles because many drivers on side streets and main connectors drive above the 50km limit eg: Clayton and Lake Road have people tailgating me when I drive at 50km and speed past at 60kms.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

I ride my bike in town and it will make it safer. So many drivers go too fast in town making it hazardous to ride on the cbd roadways. I prefer to slow to walking speed and ride on the town footpath.

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Reducing rural roads to 80kms is needed. I believe rural roads are not wide enough to risk driving at 100kms. When driving up to Mamaku last week, the roads were slippery with ice ... and people were still driving well over 80kms in such dangerous conditions.

It's a 'no-brainer' that reducing speed can prevent serious injuries in an accident. I will never forget when a primary school child was killed when crossing Clayton Road in the 1980s.

You can not expect people to travel 30km around town all you will do is end up with more accidents because people are getting impatient and overtaking not to mention the road rage will increase. Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

I can understand 40km/h, but the traffic already is slow due to traffic during peak times. At non-peak times when there is no people around thr 30km/h speed limit will serve no purpose. If it is for safety for pedestrians etc, a speed limit at 8pm or 9pm will have no real effect on increasing safety. Many studies show 50 and 40km/h are sufficient distances for safe stopping

Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Crashes are occurring due to impatient drivers disobeying the existing speed limits, through driver error and a lack of enforcement of the existing limits. Reducing the speed limit will not reduce this and will create greater frustration on the roads and therefore worse and impatient driving, increase travel times and therefore increase traffic pollution effects.

Q18. He aha ai?Why?

Q19. He aha ai?Why?

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Those that break the existing speed limits make the roads unsafe. Reducing the speed limit will not create safer roads. It will simply make the non-compliance with the speed limit greater, placing more money into the hands of police for their operation costs, rather than the improvement of the roads and infrastructure. Many crashes are probably due to the poor existing signage of the current road networks and confusing line marking. The speed related crashes are caused by people exceeding the current marked speed limits, not by compliance with the speed limits and existing rules. This evident within the terminology 'speed related crashes' meaning a greater speed is the major contributor to the crash. Reducing the speed limit will not reduce noise pollution. Most current road noise pollution is caused by trucks, motorbikes and highpowered cars in their lowest gears, which are the noisest gears. 30km/h means a car is unlikely to get out of 2nd gear for a standard car which is often one of the noisest gears. Reducing speed limits will not reduce traffic pollution. Slower speeds will result in cars spending greater times on the roads to travel the same distance. More time on the roads means more pollution. Travelling in lower gears also reduces the fuel efficiency of cars, meaning more fuel will be burnt to travel the same distances which will also increase traffic pollution in addition to the longer time on the roads. Walking and cycling will become more prevelant when it becomes more beneficial to families etc, however driving a family to multiple schools across the city means that walking or cycling is not necessarily more efficient or beneficial simply due to a reduction of speed limits. Better cycle paths, footpaths, footpath connectivity between suburbs and less crime (less stolen bikes etc) will promote cycling etc far better then reducing speed limits. Lowering speed limits will not create a safer feeling to a community. Breaking the existing rules disrupts the feeling of a safe community. It is the instances of people speeding down local streets that makes a community not feel safe, rather than people obeying the existing rules

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

If reduced speed limit are required around schools, these speed limits should be enforced only at specofic peak times throughout the day, rather then 24/7. Having these speed limits enforced outside peak or school hours serves no beneficial purpose.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

There is no evidence that shows that reducing the speed to 30 would have any material impact on what is trying to be achieved here. This proposal makes no sense. Of course reducing the limit outside of schools is something to be considered. However reducing the speed of our roads by 40% is something that I can't quite comprehend. I also offer a public debate against your team that proposes, because I would like your kaimahi to prove with evidence that the proposal will Have the desired impact

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

Reducing the speed limit to 30km along the likes of sunset and Fenton st is a ridiculous idea. I have a speed monitored vehicle for work and get abused regularly in Rotorua while working for going the speed limit as it is. Reducing speeds along there is not going to help safety. Outside schools , yes sure but not half the city

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

You'd be better off putting time and effort into the crazy crime rate and high gang numbers in Rotorua. You think your reduced speed plan will encourage more walking and cycling - I would not feel safe on many of those roads walking or cycling due to crime. 30kms outside schools is a good idea; everywhere else ? Not so much.

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Causes more congestion and irritation for drivers meaning they are more likely to make risky maneuvers and reckless decisions

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Will promote risky and reckless decisions caused by drivers becoming irritated. Also will increase commercial vehicles and operators violating log book restrictions due to increase in travel times putting them behind schedule. Will generally slow down any transportation of goods and services that are already time sensitive

Absolutely ridiculous. Lowering speed to snail pace will not lower the deaths. Most of the road fatalities lately haven't been due to speed; they've been due to driver error. Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

keep our kids safe, without congesting the rest of the city which you will do with your ridiculous plan. We live in a city, cities need to move.

Neutral (No opinion)

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

30kph is ok for inner city, but as usual you go overboard with blanket 30kph

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

I live at Ngongotaha, currently 80kph, I can see you lowering to 60, because that's what you do. Already congested, plus the roundabout upgrade did nothing to ease the flow, slowing traffic will make it worse.

All you need to do is lower speed limits during school times around schools, drop off / pick up. Waka Kotahi can't even fix a pothole let alone develop a management plan for cities.

Because drivers don't obey speed restrictions as it is. People need to drive slower!

Q9. Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Currently rural roads have a limit of 100k which clearly is ludicrous. No rural road is built for that speed. And unfortunately, drivers can't be relied on to drive to the conditions.

Āe | Yes

Q6. Why?

1/ Business need to run, and that involves travelling around the city to jobs. Travelling at 30 rather than 50 will result in a 60% increase in travel time per day. Should we charge our Rotorua customers this extra, or do we send the bill for the additional time to Waka Kotahi or the Rotorua Lakes council? 2/ Vehicles will use more petrol/diesel as we are not going to be running in gears that are good for economy (my work vehicle at 30kph is running 2500 rpm at 30 kph in 2nd gear, but in 3rd gear it is under 1500 rpm, and slows down until I have to change down to 2nd gear. 3/ Accident and emergency vehicles will be maxed out at (NZ govt regulations) of 25kph over the speed limit. Meaning they will have a max speed of 55kph to RUSH to medical emergency or fire. 4/ Voluntary firefighters will take almost twice as long to get to the fire trucks as the volunteers will only be travelling at 30 not 50 to get there. So delays in getting to a fire or emergency situation. 5/ People that speed (in current 50kph zones) will still speed in 30kph zones. If they don't care about a 50kph speed limit, why will they care about a 30kph speed limit? 6/ How much is it going to cost us rate payers to put in thousands or speed signs where the roads go from 50 to 30? 7/ National (if they get into govt) say they are going to repeal this lunacy. Why would you go ahead with something that is going to get overturned?

Q20. He aha ai? Why?

Terrible plan with no thought of the people of Rotorua who have to travel on our roads. No thought for tourists who come to our city No thoughts for business who have to do business here in Rotorua No thought for business who rely on locals to visit/come to our shops so that we can run our business No thought for the environment, where I believe we will increase our fuel consumption by increasing the RPM of our vehicles because we wont be in the power band (most economical power range of our vehicles) No thought for any vehicle that needs to tow a boat/caravan or any heavy load. You cannot travel that slow without almost stalling (best example is trying to get up Tarawera road hill at 50kph. If I start that speed at the bottom, by Highland place, when I get to the top by the water tower, I am lucky to be doing 20kph.

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu? Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

This is poorly thought out, highly detrimental to the city, and if imposed, will seriously look at closing our business and moving it to another city.

Strongly Agree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

I'd rather have no cars at all. However given it is the part of a town where there is the highest number of pedestrians, they should have priority. It would also improve perception of the town centre environment in terms of safety and attractiveness

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map

Common reaction is that lower limits have a detrimental economic effect, whilst there are plenty of studies that have found no correlation between the two. Traffic speed and perception of safety is common disincentive to walking or using a bike - increasing travel by means other than the car has environmental and climate change benefits.

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

The affected areas are too large and residential areas should not be included. People will become frustrated and this will increase poor driving and unnecessary risk, people will make poor driving decisions.

How would this be enforced? I'm sure police will be dealing with other important incidents, there is a strain on resources already.

The road code contains everything needed to control speeds I.e. drive to the conditions . Also we don't have the police force , or speed cameras to enforce any changes . Stick to patrolling highways , and stop getting involved in politics .

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

The problem isn't the speed limits. The problem are those few who have no disregard for the road rules. People who speed and hoon up and down the streets will continue to do so, and the rest of us will be forced to drive at snails pace, increasing road user pollution because we are on the road for longer. Changing all inner city streets to a speed limit of 30 is stupidly slow. That's about the speed they drop you down to when there are roadworks and aggregate all over the road. The other big issue is that signage on some of our roads is incredibly unclear. Some places where you must merge have no signs, or the signage is so close to the corner you turn into that you miss it because you're too busy paying attention to turning your car safely without hitting anything or anyone. Waka kotahi should take notes on effective road signage from Australia. They have 4 car lanes and their signage is SO clear and at the right places that they are impossible to miss. We do not have this here in Rotorua.

Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

Will achieve nothing as people already drive a touch slower anyway and if the roads clear why not go 50km to get where your going. If you are worried about people's safety why not educate people put in Zebra crossings so people have to slow down for pedestrians.

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). We don't have a massive population but we do have angry drivers and this will just piss people off and help them loose faith in an already bull system where no one will be heard and you will do it anyway.

Strongly Disagree

Q8. He aha ai?Why?

50 km is not at all fast .30 km is far too slow for manual gearbox. Increases wear and tear on gearbox and cut ,higher emissions, causes road rage because speed limit far too low.THERE IS NOTHING WRONG WITH CURRENT LIMITS!!!

Q9. Pātai tuatoru (Question 3)He pēhea te kaha o tō whakaae rānei whakahē rānei ki ēnei e whai ake nei?How much do you agree or disagree with the following?An 80km/h and 60km/h mix for rural roads (currently 100km/h, 80km/h, 60km/h). This does not include state highways.Click Here to enlarge map Strongly Disagree

Q10. He aha ai?Why?

Once again too slow. People should be allowed to drive to the conditions. Walkers and bikers should not think they own the road and should be looking where they are going at all times. Lowering speed limits are a total overreach in my opinion

Q11. Lowering speed limits will help reduce the number of speed-related crashes Strongly Disagree

Q12. Lowering speed limits will reduce traffic noise Disagree

Q13. Lowering speed limits will help reduce traffic pollution Strongly Disagree

Q14. Lowering speed limits will encourage more walking and cycling for transport Strongly Disagree

Q20. He aha ai?Why?

Total overreach.No such thing as net zero unless theres no vehicles on the road. Such lunacy

Q21. He kōrero anō wāu?Is there anything further you would like to comment on?

DO YOUR JOB AND FIX THE ROADS INSTEAD OF WORRYING ABOUT THE ROAD TO NET ZERO. THIS IS JUST IDEOLOGY AND WILL NEVER BE ATTAINED.
